

"Administration" Men Want North End Survey Extension of Corporate Limits Proposed If Advantageous To Town and People

Incumbent Councilman H. E. Halstead and councilman candidates R. L. Simpson and R. G. Barr, Jr., have announced further steps in a platform released last week.

An announcement released today by the three candidates for council seats, come June 8, stated: "We favor a survey to be made of the Town's adjoining areas to determine whether or not it would be to the advantage of the Town and the people affected to extend the corporate limits of the Town, and if found favorable, we propose immediate action, which action would cause Virginia Beach to become a city of the second class."

The statement continued, "In order to encourage more visitors and the building of additional accommodations for tourists, we propose to apply to the Federal and State governments for funds to erect an armory which would be suitable as a convention hall to accommodate large conventions. We believe this can be done with little or no cost to the Town."

R. L. Simpson, who delivered the statement to a Virginia Beach News reporter, said that further steps would be outlined at a later date. He said that Councilman Halstead, spokesman for the "administration" candidates, released today's statement.

A campaign program released last week by the group listed, as steps in their platform, improvements to the seawall, enlargement of the W. T. Cooke School, the addition of sewerage facilities to South Virginia Beach and other sections in need of them, extension of water mains, additional fire plugs and general street improvements.

The trio announced their intention of financing the entire program by a single bond issue, subject to a referendum to determine the wishes of the town's residents. The bond issue could be made possible, they stated, by the re-assessment of town property next fall, and they declared their intention of asking the Town Council to request approval for a public referendum as soon as possible.

"It is our intention," he said, "to ask Council now to request approval for a public referendum on the subject as soon as possible. If the public approves then we recommend that work on the program begin immediately in anticipation of funds to be received after the property has been reassessed."

Permits Issued For Two Ocean Front Apartments At 34th

Permits have been issued by Town Engineer Carol Bounds for the construction of two apartment houses, to be constructed at an estimated cost of $375,000, on the ocean front at 34th Street.

According to plans drawn by Lublin, McQuay and Associates, of Norfolk, the larger of the apartment buildings, to be known as the Beachside Apartment, will consist of 30 living units, each containing a living room, bedroom, kitchen and bath. The other unit will contain 15 living units, of similar design, and is to be known as the Seaview Apartment. The buildings are to be of fireproof construction, in contemporary brick design, with stone trim. According to the plans, the basements of both are to be equipped with showers. Parking areas have been laid out on the Atlantic Avenue and on the 34th Street side of the development.

The firm of Muhlen and Kayhoe, of Richmond, were named as the contractors who will build the two structures. Seaview Homes, Incorporated, and Beachside Homes, Incorporated, were listed as the owners.

Beach Catholics Aid School Fund

The Rev. Philip P. Brennan, pastor of St. of the Sea Catholic Church, said today that appeals are being made in all parishes for contributions to a $400,000 fund to build a new high school near De Paul Hospital for Catholic students of Norfolk and vicinity.

Father Brennan said that the only Catholic high school now operating in Norfolk is Holy Trinity in Ocean View, which already is overcrowded. Inadequate facilities of the St. of the Sea parish has contributed $10,000 toward the new school from sayings already on hand, and the pastor has asked members of his church to contribute liberally to the high school building fund.

Annual Dinner Meeting of C. of C. Tuesday, May 18

Albin R. Malthe, Managing Director of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, Inc., announces that the annual dinner-meeting of the Chamber will be held at the Pinewood Hotel on Tuesday evening, May 18. The dinner will begin at 7 o'clock. Dress for this affair will be informal. An interesting program is being arranged, according to Mr. Malthe, and it is hoped that all members or their representatives will attend.

$136,000 Savings Bond Drive Underway In Princess Anne County; Bryant Is Named Chairman By Virginia Director

Clatherine R. Bryant, recently named chairman of the National Security Loan Drive committee in Princess Anne County, said today that she is elated over the enthusiasm and vigor evidenced by the women of the county, and spoke of growing optimism toward the ultimate success of the drive.

The committee chairman said that women's organizations promise to be unusually active in the campaign, which began April 15 and extends through June 30.

"The Security Loan Campaign is as vital to the economic security of the home and the community as War Bonds were in winning the war," Mr. Bryant said. "There could be no surer way of losing the peace than by losing our economic stability. By ours, I mean the nation's and the individual's economic stability. Congress Security Bond purchases on the part of the general public will prove a retarding force against the spiraling pressure of higher prices."

Pointing to Mother's Day, Sunday, May 9, Mr. Bryant said, "Every day is Mother's Day, but on May 9, America pauses to pay a special tribute to her. As Security Loan Drive chairman for Princess Anne County, I take the liberty of proposing that you give your mother a Savings Bond as evidence of your devotion and esteem."

Town's Audit Report For Year Ending August 31, 1947, Being Published Today As Public Service

Members of the Virginia Beach Town Council were asked to publish the audit report of the Town of Virginia Beach prepared by M. Lu Goodman, Norfolk auditor, for the year ending August 31, 1947, at Monday night's Council meeting.

Councilman Fred A. Haycox previously had suggested that the report should be published, but members of the council explained that it was not necessary to publish the report, saying that all such reports are on file in the Clerk's office, that they are public information, and that all citizens have access to them.

Objections were raised from the floor, and C. Leonard Fisher requested publication of the audit report in the Virginia Beach News, saying that he would assume whatever expense would be involved.

The Virginia Beach News, however, promptly agreed to publish the report on audit, at our own expense, as a public service to the citizens of Virginia Beach.

A copy of the report on audit for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1947, was supplied to us by the Town Clerk. However, we have been unable to secure a copy of the Bond audit of December 31, 1947, from the Town Clerk and, therefore, cannot publish the bond audit in this edition as originally was intended.

Lynnhaven League Plans Game Party

Members of the Lynnhaven Civic League are engaged in constructing a play ground for children of the community, and are planning a game party Friday, May 21, to raise funds for play-ground equipment.

Beverly Sykes, committee chairman for the party, has announced that numerous prizes will be given away and that the public is invited. Mr. Sykes' committee also includes C. N. Edwards, William Brant and Charles Waters. Mrs. C. N. Edwards has been appointed chairman of the refreshment committee.

A petition requesting a new referendum on the issuance of bonds for the construction of Negro school facilities was discussed at the May 1 meeting of the Lynnhaven League. The league, as a group, took no action. Mr. Sykes said, but members individually were invited to sign the petition if they chose to do so. Mrs. A. E. Jewell is chairman of the Inter-church Brotherhood Committee, sponsors of the petition.

Looters Draw Fines And Police Chief Warns Operators

Pleading guilty to five separate charges involving petit larceny lodged against each of them, three Norfolk youths were fined $25 and costs on each count by Trial Justice E. V. Gresham in Police Court Tuesday night, paying a total of $150 each and clearing up a number of automobile looting reports lodged with police recently.

Arrests of Stephen Webb Eubanks, Lawrence C. Ridenour and Norman E. Thompson, all of whom gave Norfolk addresses, brought to 11 the number of youths arrested for pilfering and looting automobiles, some of whom also were involved in petty thefts of articles from a Beach hotel. Altogether, 39 charges were preferred.

Three youths, two of whom were listed as minors, were remanded to the Princess Anne County Grand Jury Monday by Princess Anne County Trial Justice John Davis Reed on charges of grand larceny, resulting from charges of alleged thefts of articles of value from parked automobiles.

Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson today asked the cooperation of hotel operators in warning their guests not to leave articles in cars parked overnight.

Chief Johnson said the arrests of Eubanks, Ridenour and Thompson early Saturday resulted from the latest of a series of thefts that have kept the police busy for the past three or four weeks. He said he hoped these arrests would end the current juvenile crime wave, but pointed out that operators would be wise to warn their guests against leaving luggage or other articles in their cars.

"Economy Coupled With Wise Planning" Advocated By Hall, Withers, Johnson

"Economy coupled with wise planning" was announced today to be the keynote of a detailed platform released by J. Burke Withers, Edwin M. Hall and W. W. Johnson, candidates for three vacancies in the Town Council to be filled in June 8 elections.

Under platform headings previously outlined by the "anti-administration" candidates, detailed explanations were made of their announced plans for the appointment of a planning commission as provided by law, for improvement of school facilities, and of "proposals designed to provide economy in administrative operation and to establish financial stability."

Whitehead Funeral Tomorrow At 2 p. m.

Funeral services for Henry Cowles Whitehead, Norfolk Symphony Orchestra conductor, who died of nephritis suddenly Thursday, will be held in Old St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Norfolk tomorrow at 2 p. m. The Rev. Moultrie Quarry, rector of the church, will conduct the funeral services.

The well-known symphony conductor and composer, who also was program director of Radio Station WTAR, became ill at his Virginia Beach cottage last Thursday. His condition failed to improve after he was taken to the hospital and he died at 8:30 a. m. yesterday.

Born in Amherst, the son of Mrs. Helen Cowles Whitehead and the late Dr. Robert C. Whitehead, who moved to Norfolk a year later, the musician spent most of the 38 years of his life in Norfolk and was well known in Virginia Beach, where he owned and occupied a cottage in the North end section.

Leader of the Norfolk Orchestra for 14 years, he was a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, with a bachelor of music degree. His musical career included engagements with Earl Carroll's Theatre orchestra, Walter Damrosch's orchestra and with Erno Rapee in the Radio City Music Hall.

Mr. Whitehead is survived by his wife, his mother, and a sister, Mrs. Helen Stier, of Richmond.

Final Meeting Of Cooke P-T. A. Held Monday

Music by the W. T. Cooke School band under the direction of Mr. James A. Kantrell opened the final P-T. A. meeting held at the school May 3. The guest speaker, Mr. W. F. Crockett, spoke on "Movies Appropriate for School Children."

It was announced that the Children's Concert, which was to have been presented May 4, had to be postponed due to the illness of the director of the orchestra, Mr. Henry Whitehead. Tickets will be honored at the time the concert is rescheduled.

All mothers are invited to Parents Day on Tuesday, May 11, when they can visit the children's rooms from 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and see the actual school-room procedure. This will be followed by a program in the auditorium at 1:30 p. m. by the glee club and band.

New officers were installed at Monday's meeting with Mrs. Charles Fields, President, Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, vice-president, Mrs. Wanda Leake, treasurer, and Miss Janita Marquez, Corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Macpherson, as retiring president, was presented with the Past President's pin and Mrs. Fields, as new president, was presented with a new gavel with which to conduct the meetings during the next two years.

MISS MARTHA CARR ELECTED TO ALPHA PI OMEGA

Fredericksburg, Va.—Miss Martha Carr, of Lynnhaven, a sophomore at Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, has been elected to membership in Alpha Pi Omega, a national honorary dramatic fraternity.

"We advocate the creation of a planning commission as provided by the laws of the State," the announcement stated, "with full authority to act in accordance with the provisions of the law."

"In considering this step, we have taken into account the waste, extravagance and the general debilitation that have resulted from unlimited appropriations of funds to finance experimental attempts to repair the seawall and check erosion, as well as for other unproven ventures that have resulted in failure."

"The importance of a planning commission in the development of a town is outlined in an entire chapter in the Code of Virginia. Its function and duty is to supervise and adopt a master plan for the development of the town, with the general purpose in mind of guiding and accomplishing a coordinated, adjusted and harmonious development of the town and its environs which will be in accordance with existing and future needs and will promote public health, safety, morals, order, convenience and general welfare."

"The planning commission would have full authority to make surveys, collect data, and to secure the advice of experts in preparing recommendations to the council concerning water supply, sewage disposal, erosion and seawall construction, zoning and location of public utilities, including railroad terminals, gas plants and other utilities providing services to the town and its citizens. Further details concerning the functions of the planning commission will be given at a later date."

Concerning the school program planned by the three candidates, the announcement contained an outline of points which included: a. No diversion of school funds, b. Enlargement of the elementary school, and c. Appointment of a health doctor for the schools. Candidate Johnson, a former principal of one of the Princess Anne County schools, said that he is preparing a detailed outline of plans for the school facilities of the town, to be released at a later date.

Under the economy plank of their platform, the candidates listed, as the first step, "thorough preparation of the town's budget to the end that expenditures will not exceed revenues." Further steps included "strict adherence to the budget after approval by the Town Council," and "periodic publication of the Town's financial condition so that the citizens may know the financial condition of the town."

Outlining the adoption of civil service procedures in the employment and operation of the Town's employees, said, as a further step in the "economy" plank, the announcement stated that this was to be undertaken as a means of providing a stabilized labor force (Continued on Page Four)

Drive-In To Open Tomorrow

Two well-known residents of Virginia Beach will open a new drive-in at 31st Street and Arden Avenue on Saturday, May 8. E. E. Eubanks and Vito Madonna will open the new establishment under the name of "Beachcomber." They plan to remain open all night for the convenience of all who wish to have a bite to eat before calling it a night out.

This will be the third drive-in to be opened at Virginia Beach.

consistent with the needs of the Town which would permit an accurate estimate of operating costs in setting up the Town's financial budget while, at the same time, providing benefits not now enjoyed by Town employees.

"We believe that the Town's employees are the Town's representatives in all matters in which they come in contact with the public. We believe that an efficient operating staff is an asset to the Town, as it is to any business enterprise and that to promote efficiency is to promote economy. We are convinced that the operating staff of the Town should be selected on the basis of their qualifications for the positions they are to fill, as evidenced by competitive examinations, which should be properly advertised in order that the greatest possible number of applicants may be graded according to their ability."

"After proper selection and placement by a qualified civil service board of examiners, to be composed of three of the Town's citizens selected for their ability to establish personnel policies consistent with the needs of the Town, employees should be entitled to all the benefits enjoyed by personnel employed in most business establishments. They are entitled to earn a fair minimum wage, standardized and classified according to the work requirements of the job. Arrangements should be worked out to provide pay increases based on seniority and meritorious service."

"It has come to our attention that some employees, long in the service of the Town, face the prospect of eventual retirement without compensation of any kind. We also have been informed that members of the police and fire departments, many of whom risk their lives frequently in the service of the Town, are not covered by group insurance or any collective plan which would provide adequate compensation for their wives and children should they meet with a fatal accident. We do not believe that this is equitable treatment for these employees, nor do we believe that any fair-minded citizen would object to the adoption of a system whereby the Town and its employees may share the cost of providing retirement and insurance benefits for personnel employed by the Town."

"As a further precaution to prevent discrimination and to avoid the appointment of personnel on the strength of political patronage, we recommend the appointment of an appeals board, composed of five citizens not otherwise connected with the Town's operations and not serving as members of the Civil Service Examining Board. This Appeals Board would meet at regular intervals to hear complaints concerning discrimination in employment procedures, promotions, transfers, working conditions and general working relationships. The Appeals Board would have the authority to investigate and to make final decisions on all candidates. Candidate Hall has studied the procedures necessary in the establishment of Civil Service, and will make further recommendations at a later date."

Another step outlined by the candidates under their "economy" program included the appointment of a town manager, subject to the will of the people, as another means of promoting economy in administration. It was pointed out that the town manager should be selected under the same rules and procedures used in the employment of other civil personnel, that he should be selected on the strength of his qualifications, and that he should be selected by the Civil Service Board of Examiners, rather than by appointment of the Council or any political group.

Purchasing procedures outlined by the candidates would include the securing of three bids on all contracts over $500, contracts to be placed with the lowest bidder and all bids to be properly advertised.

Under their program calling for "financial stability," Hall, Withers and Johnson presented an outline containing three points. They are: "A. Work diligently to pay off any deficits of the Town incurred by the present administration. The amount spent by the present Council, more than received, at the end of the fiscal year ending August 31, 1946, was $87,559.84; the amount spent more than was received at August 31, 1946, was $21,978.14; and the amount spent more than was received at August 31, 1947, was $40,828.40; bringing the total of expenditures over revenue to $149,866.40 in a period of three years, the announcement stated."

will give them the lowest interest rate. There should be no recurrence of borrowing money from a bank, on which board two members of the Council are on the board of directors, when funds are available to the town at a lower rate of interest at another bank, or bank."

Further details of platform plans for financial stability are to be released at a later date by Candidate Withers, according to the platform announcement.

Capital Airlines Signs Interline Agreement With British Overseas

Washington, D. C., May 4—British Overseas Airways and Capital Airlines have signed an interline agreement enabling each airline to sell tickets and accept freight over the other's routes. The agreement will in effect provide complete transportation facilities between any point throughout the 5,500 mile network of routes on the Capital system serving 70 cities in the East, Midwest and South, and such famous cities as London, Paris, Rome, Stockholm, Calcutta, Hongkong, and the many others on the global routes of British Overseas Airways.

Capital flights will connect with British Overseas scheduled service at Baltimore and New York.

Mr. V. K. Stephens, Manager of Interline and Agency for Capital Airlines, stated that the agreement will eliminate many of the inconveniences formerly experienced in overseas travel and will enable passengers to complete involved itineraries quickly and easily.

18th Century Silver Bowl, Gift Of Lady Astor, To Be Presented In Ceremonies At Stratford

An 18th Century silver bowl, the gift of Lady Astor, will be presented by her sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, to the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation at Stratford, Westmoreland County, Virginia, Sunday, May 9.

John H. Baker, president of the National Audubon Society, and Col. Robert Lee Scott, Jr., author of "God Is My Co-Pilot," will be speakers on the program which begins at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Mrs. Harry B. Hawes, president of the Foundation, will receive the gift for Stratford from Mrs. Gibson, who was the inspiration for her husband's early drawings of the "Gibson Girl." Both Mrs. Gibson and Lady Astor are directors of the Foundation.

Lady Astor purchased this rare bowl twenty-five years ago in London and has long planned that it should go to Stratford since it bears the inscription: "The Gift of Mr. Rich: Lee Fraughton of ye Martha to Virginia, to Capt. William Laurence 1709." indicating that Richard Lee, father of Thomas Lee, builder of Stratford Hall, thus rewarded the captain of his freighter for his excellent service between London and Virginia.

The Stratford plantation is being visited by Mr. Baker of the Audubon Society because of his interest in bird sanctuaries. Of its 1100 acres bordering the broad Potomac River, 800 are in woodland and form a natural haven for wildlife.

Col. Scott, a keen student of General Lee's military tactics, has had a distinguished career as a soldier. A notable pilot and observer in World War II, he was awarded the Silver Star and Oak Leaf cluster for gallantry in action.

continues through Wednesday, May 12.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employees reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15 1/2 cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15 1/2 cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employees have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion
Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages all further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more. ALL the changes they asked the Board to discuss in rule of the fact that the Board recommended them. These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increases not justified
Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all workers in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Board are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?
Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

Compare these wages with what you make!

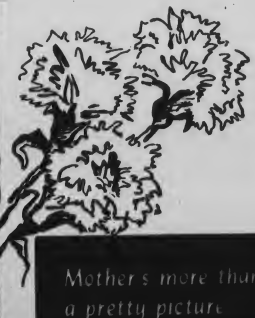

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1947 (one-year) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15 1/2 cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

She's a power in the world!

WITH ALL affection and reverence for the familiar aspects of Mother's Day, it seems timely to point out that today mother is a Power.

In our nation there are, for the first time, more women than men—more women over forty-five than there are men over forty-five. 800,000 stronger in potential voting power, they can elect a President, sway a government or an organization of nations!

Always the tireless champions of children's rights, they treasure the American system of free enterprise, under which a boy or girl may prosper and share in the fruits of any business which they help create, limited only by individual ability and ambition.

We gratefully salute today's Mothers . . . and take only a modest bow for the fact that Electricity has given her most time to become a World Power!

Plymouth Sponsored
Model Plane Contest
Gets Underway Soon

D. S. Eddins, president of the Plymouth Motor Corp., estimates that a half-million model plane builders will participate in 500 elimination meets preparatory to the second international model plane contest at Detroit, August 18-23.

Eliminations will be held on state and local levels during June and July, although in some smaller communities entrants will try for qualification in time trials.

An invitational contest, the International will be limited to 500 model builders who demonstrate the superiority of their planes in the preliminary meets. The top 500 will be invited to the International by a committee headed by Eddins and including Dr. Walter A. Good, chairman, Academy of Model Aeronautics, and Frank P. Spolite, contest director.

The prizes—135 trophies and $7,875 in cash—will be awarded to winners in 45 events. There are handsome trophies for the first three place winners in each event plus cash prizes of $100 for first, $50 for second, and $25 for third place winners.

In addition, there will be special trophies for high point winners in each of the Junior, senior and open classifications. Event high point winners will be shooting for the three perpetual trophies: Plymouth Motor Corporation's trophy for top speed, jet-propelled; the Stinson trophy for scale modeling; and the Air Trails trophy for stunt events.

The contest is sponsored by Plymouth in conjunction with the Aero Club of Michigan and with the sanction of the Academy of Model Aeronautics. Open to model builders throughout the world, it is designed to encourage development of engineering and design skill in youngsters. The contest includes events for indoor and outdoor rubber-powered planes, gas-powered free-flight, and for control-line gas-powered, control-line scale models, control-line stunt, and control-line jet.

Entry blanks may be obtained from local Plymouth dealers.

Quinine

QUININE

The old Peruvian word for the Cinchona tree is Quinine—and that is the name Peter Pelletier and Joseph Caventon, two French scientists, gave to the chemical which they isolated from the bark of the Cinchona tree in 1820. It is one of the five most important alkaloids obtained from this bark and since its discovery has been largely used in the cure of Malarial Fevers.

tives and friends. The church was arranged with palms, white cut flowers and lighted candles, and Mrs. William C. Flora, of Morock, N. C., cousin of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride entered with her father by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown of white was fashioned with shirred molded satin bodice with square neckline and long tight sleeves, and the full skirt of imported illusion applique with satin motifs, extended into a long train. Her full length veil of imported illusion fell from a Juliet cap caught with lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Simmons Andrews, of Raleigh, was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a gown of melon mouseline de sole over taffeta, made with tight bodice with off the shoulder neckline, short sleeves, and the full bouffant skirt forming a short train. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers with blue iris predominating. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank Can-ney, of Boston, Miss Mary Potter Mayo, of Richmond, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Anne Peyton, of Washington. Their gowns were of pale blue mouseline de sole, over taffeta, made like that of the matron of honor, and they carried bouquets of spring flowers with pink snapdragons predominating.

All of the attendants were bandeaux of ribbon-velvet to match their gowns.

Holman C. Hawis, III, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom had as his best man Harry Musser, of Charlottesville, W. Va. The groomsmen were Simmons Andrews, of Raleigh, William W. Gwathmey, IV, of Baltimore, cousin of the bridegroom, John Frost Woodhouse, Jr., brother of the bride, and Mary Oliver.

The bride's mother wore a dress of gray crepe trimmed with crystal beads, and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Mayo, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of beige crepe with black lace trim, and a corsage of orchids.

After the ceremony there was a reception at Courtney Terrace, Virginia Beach. Later Mr. and Mrs. Mayo left for a wedding trip to Sea Island, Ga., and upon their return will reside in Salem. The bride wore for traveling an Adele Simpson suit of navy blue, with navy and white accessories, and a corsage of orchids.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. E. Gwathmey Mayo, Miss Mary Potter Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. William Wolfenden, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pinder, Miss Katherine Lewis Warren, and Matthew Lawman, of Richmond; Rear Admiral and Mrs. Loyal A. Davidson, Miss Anne Peyton, Miss Margaret Woodhouse, Mrs. McCall Pate, Mrs. Edward Haller and Frank Kyker, of Washington; Mrs. Frank Canney, of Boston; Miss Mary Alderson, of Lewisburg, W. Va.; William W. Gwathmey, of Baltimore;

Harry Musser, of Charlottesville, W. Va.; Howard Kearns, of Charlotte, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Flora and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Bagley, of Morock, N. C.; Dr. Deval L. Gwathmey, of Writheville; Mr. and Mrs. Simmons Andrews, of Raleigh, and Guy Whitcomb, of Rutland, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Woodhouse, Charles Bernard and Miss Anne Estep, of Chapel Hill, N. C.; and Davis B. Powell, of Rocky Mount, N. C.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"What's Your Opinion, Mister?"

Follow from one of those public opinion polls was in Andy's Garden Tavern, querying Andy's patrons on everything from that "new look" to the next election.

And it occurred to me that there's nothing more typically American than collecting other folks' opinions, as well as giving out with one's own. And from where I sit, it's a mighty healthy habit.

So long as people can discuss both sides of a question that comes up—whether it concerns short skirts versus long, beer compared with cider, or the larger issues of party versus party—we're sure of the individual liberty that has made this country great.

For it isn't differences of opinion that matter. The important thing is tolerance for differences of opinion—whether they affect the right of an individual to vote, to speak his mind, or enjoy a glass of beer. They're all parts of the freedom that we cherish!

Council Candidates To Explain Aims At South Virginia Beach Civic League Meeting Monday Night

Six Candidates To Be Heard; Opposing Factions Meet For Verbal Duel

Interest in the current political campaign to elect three candidates to the Virginia Beach Town Council is centered on a meeting Monday night of the South Virginia Beach Civic League.

All candidates have accepted invitations to speak for 10 minutes on campaign issues and matters considered by each to be of importance in the government of the town.

C. H. Driskill, president of the South Virginia Beach League, has invited the Rev. Philip P. Brennan, pastor of Star of the Sea Catholic Church, to deliver the invocation. The Rev. Robert P. Davis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, has been invited to pronounce the benediction.

Each of the civic organizations of the town and all interested persons have been invited to attend the meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Frank Klepper, secretary of the Civic League, said today that plans to conduct the meeting as an open question and answer forum later were considered impractical and the current plan is to have each candidate speak for 10 minutes without interruption. Should both sides agree on a rebuttal period, she said, they may arrange for this after assembling, by request to Mr. Driskill.

The meeting is to be held in the Willoughby T. Cooke School auditorium at 8 p.m., Monday, May 17.

"Daylight" Post Card Poll Now Underway In Town

B. M. Stanton and a group of Virginia Beach residents who are adherents of Daylight Saving Time are conducting a poll to determine how many of the populace would prefer to operate on "fast" time.

Postal cards are being mailed to approximately 2,000 homes. Those receiving the cards will be requested to supply certain information and to return them to the senders. The backs of the cards contain the following information:

"The attached card is for you and the adult members of your household, to express your views by Poll, as to whether the time at Virginia Beach should be changed to conform with Daylight Saving Time of Norfolk. The Poll is based upon the assumption that Norfolk will remain on Daylight Saving Time for this Summer.

"These cards are sent to every home at Virginia Beach, and the purpose of the Poll is to determine the majority opinion of the residents towards the subject. The votes will be tabulated and the results presented to the Town Council of Virginia Beach for their guidance and assistance. Should you have an opinion one way or the other, you are urged to fill in the Poll Card and place it in the mail.

"The Poll Card is already stamped and self-addressed, so please cooperate by expressing your views on the subject. Only adults should vote. Be sure that you give your address and sign your vote. No votes will be counted unless they bear signature and address. If there are more than three adult residents in the household, use a plain Penny Postal to send in the additional names and addresses with your votes."

Mr. Stanton has explained that the poll is being conducted to determine the wishes of the majority of the people.

Johnson Outlines School Plans; Asks 1953 Outlook

"We fully realize the importance of schools in the American Way of life, therefore any position we take must evolve around the child, both his present and his future."

W. W. Johnson, candidate for election to the Virginia Beach Town Council June 8, made that statement today in outlining his plans for future improvement in the school facilities of the town.

"We cannot logically conclude that the healthy and happy child of the present automatically will become the useful and contented citizen of tomorrow," he said. "This child, the citizen of tomorrow, requires certain important things to bring about a successful transition."

First, probably, is a happy and good home environment. Schools can do very little about this, but an intelligent study of the home environment will certainly help the teacher to understand the child better, thus making possible better teaching results," the candidate, a former school principal, said.

"Second," he continued, "and of equal importance, is the school plant and the teachers with whom the child is associated for the major portion of his day."

Answering his own question as to what constitutes a good school plant, Mr. Johnson spoke of good ventilation, good lighting, good sanitation, enough fire exits and a minimum number of children per teacher room, along with a reasonable space for playground. Speaking of prevailing conditions in the Virginia Beach school, Mr. Johnson said, "With eight out of twelve teachers carrying a teaching load of from 40 to 42 pupils per teacher; two of the 12 teaching two grades in one classroom, and one out of the entire group being forced to teach in a room which is also used for another purpose, one would certainly not consider such a plant conducive to good teaching. This is the picture of our elementary school today. There is an overall average of 38.9 pupils per teacher, which is 8.9 pupils above the maximum one teacher can handle if the best teaching results are to be produced."

Concerning the recently proposed addition of four classrooms presented to the Town Council at their May meeting, Mr. Johnson said, "Four new classrooms will only temporarily relieve conditions, surely for no more than a period of five years, considering the steady and rapid growth of the town."

"My constituents and I (the candidate referred to Edwin M. Hall and J. Burke Withers, his running mates on a ticket opposed to candidates endorsed by the present administration) strongly urge, considering the present physical plant conditions, that all school funds heretofore diverted to the General Fund be used to modernize and enlarge the present inadequate and outmoded plant and to the payment of increased operational costs, such as extra teachers."

"We recommend," Mr. Johnson said, "to the Town Council, in connection with the school board's plan, that steps should be taken to curtail this capital outlay in its entirety, in addition to the present capital indebtedness, by not later than 1953, at which time there will be further demands for school plant facilities. This means that the approximately $400,000.00 in school funds ordinarily diverted to the General Fund will have to be used for the cost of annual capital improvements and increased operational costs."

FUTURE VOLUNTEERS JOIN MATTHIAS HOUSEHOLD

It was not a fire call that attracted M. E. Matthias, assistant chief of the Virginia Beach Fire Department, unawares yesterday and sent him racing for the nearest exit.

It was the word that the stock had visited the Matthias household for the second time within a year, leaving two healthy youngsters, both boys, on the doorstep.

"Jack" Junior hasn't expressed an opinion, but, chances are, he's making plans to become the captain of a future fire department outfit all team.

COMMISSION REQUESTS CLEAN-UP DRIVE

Richard Y. Carter, superintendent of the Mosquito Control Commission, has asked all residents of Virginia Beach to cooperate with the commission by removing tin cans from their premises.

Mosquitoes breed profusely in tin cans and other rubbish. Mr. Carter said, and suggested that every effort should be made by property owners to clear all vacant lots and back yards of these mosquito breeding places.

Victor Ashe Retained for Federal Court Fight; Citizen's Committee President Expresses Regret Action Must Be Taken

Increasing numbers of parents of Princess Anne County's colored children, assisted by attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, are signing documents preparatory to entering suit in the Federal court to require the county to provide adequate schools for colored pupils.

Francis Taylor, president of the Princess Anne Citizen's Committee, an affiliate of the NAACP, said today that efforts of the Inter-Church Brotherhood Committee to reopen the question of a bond issue of $250,000 to finance a colored high school at Euclid were greatly appreciated, but that the people had been advised by attorneys for the NAACP that $250,000 would be inadequate to provide the school plant recommended by a survey commission appointed by the State Board of Education in 1946.

Elizabeth River Wayside Nearing Completion

The Elizabeth River Wayside on the Military Highway near Norfolk, U. S. Route 13, already is attracting family parties and picnics to the cool, wooded 18-acre tract now being developed by the Virginia Department of Highways as a rest area for passing motorists.

Coals glowing in brick ovens scattered through the park Sunday as wieners roasted and steaks broiled, carefully tended by masculine gourmets, as the Little Women busied themselves setting out dollies, pickles and home-cooked viands to complement outdoor family feasts. Cars from far and near were parked along the roadway and among the trees bordering the river bank.

Resident Highway Engineer Hubbard said today that State forces have completed an estimated 75 per cent of the work on the Wayside, and that it should be completed before Summer.

Extending 2,300 feet along the western side of the highway between the eastern branch of the Elizabeth River and the rail tracks of the Norfolk Southern, the wayside is heavily wooded and landscaped officials have reported that "every effort has been made to preserve the natural beauty." A rustic shelter of cypress wood has been erected on the river bank. Toilet facilities have been installed, and fireplaces and picnic benches are placed in several different picnic areas. Trails are being cleared through the woods. Facilities will be provided for both white and colored motorists.

Water is not available, but landscape officials said wells will eventually be drilled to provide drinking water. Picnic tables are expected to go in place this week.

The engineer said that the State Highway Department maintains a number of waysides throughout the State as a part of its emphasis on driving comfort and safety. Officials feel that when a motorist breaks a long journey with a brief rest amid pleasant surroundings, he will continue his trip relaxed and with less chance for an accident. The waysides are open to one and all for picnics and outdoor parties.

Oceana Fire Squad Re-elects Perry

C. L. Perry has been re-elected chief of the Oceana Fire Department, with Eddie Prizell named to serve as assistant chief.

Members of the department elected Perry at an annual meeting Thursday. Houston Gimbert was appointed as captain, Maurice Simmons was named as lieutenant of the department, Charles Kadas was re-elected as engineer and A. E. Goodwin will continue as secretary of the Oceana Firefighters.

"Our committee has exhausted every means of bringing about improvements in the colored schools of Princess Anne County without resorting to court action," Mr. Taylor said.

"We have worked closely with the Inter-Church Brotherhood Committee, a group composed of 23 churches in the county, in an effort to improve the schools without having to take legal action," he said. "The white churches and their members, working jointly with us, have helped us by circulating petitions asking clubs and organizations in the county to support a request for a new referendum on a bond issue to build a high school at Euclid and to improve the elementary colored schools in the county."

"We feel that they have done everything they could do, and we appreciate their help. But some of our people have become discouraged and the latest reports are that 150 parents have joined the NAACP in preparing to file suits in the Federal court," he said.

"I think this action has been brought about by the results of a survey made by NAACP, in which it was found that the $250,000 asked by the school board will not come near to supplying the kind of building recommended by the State Board of Education's Survey Commission after a survey made, in 1946. I believe that is why most of the colored parents have decided to go along with the NAACP in preparing to file suit," Mr. Taylor said.

"Most of us are sorry it had to be this way, but we feel that the colored children have a right to an education that will help them to earn a decent living and to be good citizens," the Citizens' Committee president said.

Appointed at the request of Princess Anne County school officials and Frank A. Cox, school superintendent, the State Board of Education's Survey Commission made a report of their findings in May, 1947.

The commission, headed by G. Tyler Miller, State superintendent of public instruction, included Gov. W. W. Wake, director of State elementary education; M. B. Jones, superintendent of State County Schools; W. A. Early, superintendent of Norfolk County schools; and Arthur E. Chapman, director of State school buildings.

The report recommended consolidation of the 13 elementary schools then being operated in the county into three schools, to be located in the vicinities of Kempsville, Oceana and Princess Anne Court House. Describing the conditions found in the elementary schools, the commission reported that the buildings are so crowded that there is no possibility of relieving the situation until additional classroom space is made available.

"The buildings were constructed originally with very inexpensive material and on the simplest possible plans," the report stated. "Considering the small cost of

REPRESENTATION WITHOUT TAXATION

AN OPEN LETTER TO OUR PRINCESS ANNE CO. NEIGHBORS

Dear Friends:

You know, of course, that Virginia Beach has grown by leaps and bounds in the last half-century. Some of you settled in the "suburbs" when the Town limits seemed a long way from the small business section that formed the center of the Town.

It was back in 1907 that Judge R. E. Boykin, of the Princess Anne Circuit Court, entered an order in the Common Law Minute Book, on page 307, setting forth that, upon a petition of twenty-one registered voters of Seaboard Magisterial District of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, "the Court doth designate all that territory lying WITHIN THE LIMITS of the Town of Virginia Beach in the County of Princess Anne aforesaid as a separate election precinct of the said Seaboard Magisterial District."

Most of you know how much we have grown since that time, and how much we have had to pay for the development of the Town's facilities. Take the sea wall, for example. It cost a small fortune when it was new—lucky it didn't have to be done at today's price. But, it has to be repaired now, and the town engineer says that will cost about $500,000. And it has to be done if Virginia Beach is to continue to be the kind of place your friends like to visit and you like to refer to by saying, "I live AT Virginia Beach." Not IN, but AT.

Yes, we've grown right up to the Town limits. And you can't tell where the Town ends except by the highway markers. Those of you who live in the "North End" have the same facilities we have. Your water comes from Town mains, you're on the Virginia Beach telephone exchange, you call the Town's fire department when a fire breaks out, you get your mail through the Virginia Beach Post Office and, chances are, if you need a policeman and a Princess Anne County squad car is not available, you'll be rescued by a Virginia Beach patrolman.

In fact, you have one advantage we don't have. You get your tax bills from Princess Anne County. We pay taxes to Princess Anne County, too, but we also have to pay the operating expenses of the Town of Virginia Beach.

Now, we're confident that you are fair-minded and that you want to do the right thing. We'd like to have you join us in the incorporated area of the town, so we could all share alike the benefits and expenses of the Town.

If you don't want to do that, we think you should ask the County of Princess Anne to do something for you in return for your tax dollars. You don't ask for much—the State helps to maintain most of your streets and, though you may ask the County for street lights once in a while, you don't always get them. So we think it would cost very little and that the County should be willing to establish a polling place in the North End so you wouldn't be obliged to drive so far to your proper polling place in the Lynnhaven District.

We're sure, since the residents of the Town of Virginia Beach are paying the Town's expenses, that you are much too fair and honest to want to elect your representatives to the Council to tell us how to spend our money. After all, we believe you'll agree that if we are to pay the bills, we should, at least, have the exclusive right to decide by whom our money shall be spent, and what it is to buy.

After all, Article II, Section 18, of the Constitution of Virginia clearly defines the qualifications of voters, thusly: "Every citizen of the United States, twenty-one years of age, who has been a resident of the State one year, of the county, city OR town SIX MONTHS, and of the PRECINCT in which he offers to vote THIRTY DAYS, NEXT PRECEDING THE ELECTION in which he offers to vote, has been registered, and has paid his poll taxes as hereinafter required, shall be entitled to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elective by the people; but REMOVAL FROM ONE PRECINCT TO ANOTHER, in the same county, city or town SHALL NOT DEPRIVE any person of his RIGHT TO VOTE in the precinct from which he has moved UNTIL THE EXPIRATION OF THIRTY DAYS AFTER SUCH REMOVAL."

Remember, Judge Boykin's order designated "all that territory lying within the limits of the Town of Virginia Beach" as a "separate election precinct." And the limits of the Town of Virginia Beach are clearly defined. The law doesn't give anyone the right to vote simply because he owns property in a town. If that were so, many persons would be eligible to vote in half a dozen cities. Instead, the Constitution provides that you must RESIDE in the town for a stipulated period and that, having moved to another precinct, he may retain his voting privilege in the precinct from which he has moved UNTIL THE EXPIRATION OF THIRTY DAYS AFTER SUCH REMOVAL.

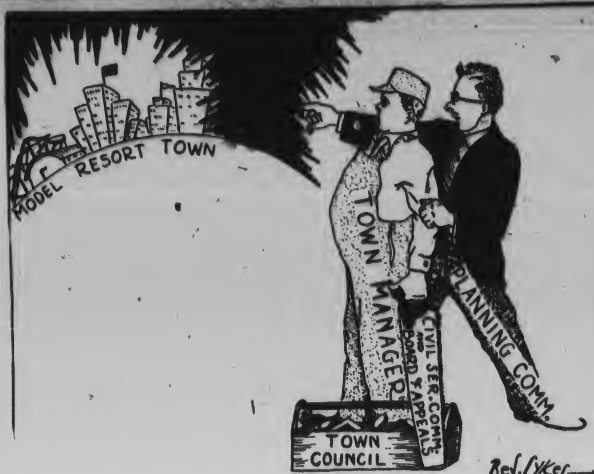

We don't believe anyone will argue with the provisions of the Constitution unless he wants to excuse himself for taking advantage of his Virginia Beach neighbors. And, if anyone insists upon doing so, we hope he will have the grace to hang his head in shame when he faces his Virginia Beach neighbors at the Town Hall on election day!

FAIRNESS—SOCIAL AND POLITICAL

The social season seems to be hitting a new high, with a wave of parties scheduled for nights to come.

They're following a new pattern these days, however. The current social events seem to be non-educational. Stags assemble here, does there. Sometimes, one hears spirited discussions continue until a late hour, and usually terminate in songs of praise, led by well-chosen song leaders.

According to some of the regular guests, there are many current weaknesses of the line. "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party."

"Program Notes"

Brahms, in his customary fashion, wrote his friends of his new Piano Concerto No. 2 in B flat Major in a deprecating manner, calling it a "tiny, tiny piano concerto, with a tiny, tiny wisp of a scherzo." Actually it is a prodigious work and is recorded in vigorous and glowing style by Vladimir Horowitz and the NBC Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Toscanini.

Horowitz accomplishes that miracle of virtuosity, the complete concealment of his brilliant technique and mastery of the keyboard. The slow movement, the third one in this concerto, is full of a haunting beauty; its harmonious andante quality is opened by a cello solo which intones a song-like melody that dominates this movement. The last movement, a rondo, is based on Hungarian Gypsy themes, and brings this portentous work to a brilliant close.

The Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 4 in G Major, with which we next regaled our audience, is recorded by Arthur Schnabel, and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the baton of the late Dr. Frederick Stock. Schnabel is considered the foremost Beethoven interpreter.

This G Major Concerto was first brought to public notice by Mendelssohn's performance of it 20 years after its composition. It is unconventionally written, the pianist starting it with a statement of the main subject, the orchestra then following. The lyric quality of the concerto is beautifully sustained in this masterful performance by Schnabel, who records the superb cadenza with exquisite precision. The second movement is short and intensely dramatic. The concerto concludes with a rondo and is brought to a simple close. It is one of Beethoven's most melodic and tuneful products.

By way of contrast, we next listened to Rhapsody No. 1 in A Major, performed by Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. This, like his other rhapsodies, is based on the folk tunes of his country, with a luscious overall embroidery that transfigures these simple tunes into symphonic works of intricate and noble design.

Our next recording was the "Eclatante Brahms No. 5" by Vito-Lobos, sung by Edna Sayao.

Buying Power Is On The Increase

According to Reynolds Knight, reporting "Behind the Scene in American Business," more than $6 billion dollars will be added to the American public's purchasing power for the rest of this year.

The new federal income tax cut will put $4.2 billion into individual consumers' pockets and state payments of veterans' bonuses will total around $1.5 billion.

This coming influx of buying power is expected to keep retail sales at high levels. But even with this promising outlook most retailers, recalling the dark days before Easter, are holding inventories to safe minimums.

Sales still lag in luxury lines and a buyers' market is either forecast or already developing in some hard lines such as heavier appliances, despite a certain amount of "scare buying" touched off by war threats and stockpiling of metals for national defense emergency.

HERE TOMORROW, GONE TODAY

One year ago today, a series of ugly little gadgets were rearing their mechanical heads along the main thoroughfares of the Garden Spot of the Atlantic Seaboard, thereby presuming to spill the idyllic non-commercial aspects of off-season resort life.

The howling Northeast of public opinion that shook the resort as a result of this presumption failed to spend itself until, after several stormy Council sessions and repeated unsuccessful attempts to remove the gadgets, opponents gave up in disgust and figured it was about time to close up anyway.

Storm clouds began to appear when Clarence E. Hobeck, then Chief of the Virginia Beach Police Department, was called upon to wave the red flag by announcing that parking meters would be in operation May 23, 1947. The Chief later found it expedient to postpone actual enforcement of parking meter regulations until about June 1.

It was on June 3 that an unprecedented crowd of irate Virginia Beach citizens stormed the Council chamber, overruling into hallways and spilling out into the courtyard outside. Demanding a hearing in larger quarters, the crowd finally persuaded members of the Council to adjourn to resume the session in the auditorium of the USO Building, now the Community House.

To date, there has been no indication that the performance will be repeated this year. Carefully oiled and packed away, the ugly little gadgets lie in peaceful repose, awaiting, no doubt, a more auspicious moment to make their appearance on the Beach scene.

NOT A DROP!

Members of the Virginia Beach Town Council met in a special session in July to adopt a proposed budget for 1947-48 calling for estimated disbursements totaling $501,650, necessitating a revised tax schedule bringing the tax rate to $4.40 per $100 of valuation in order to raise $153,000 to meet budget expenditures.

It was surprising to observe, from the audit report for 1946-47, published last week, that expenditures for the year ending August 31, 1947, were shown to total $506,738.13, exceeding the estimated expenditures shown in the budget for 1947-48. And the 1946-47 budget estimate was $415,050!

It would take an experienced auditor to correctly analyze the audit report, and we do not profess to be auditors. However, a casual examination of the report reveals another peculiarity. Salaries of the mayor, the attorney, clerk and treasurer, office assistants, etc., are not solely administrative expenditures, apparently, but these officers also are employed by the water department. Obviously, according to the report, they have no salaries for performance in connection with the department of public safety, sanitation and health, street maintenance, or education.

Whether this method of bookkeeping was arranged in order to show a minimum of expenditures in the administrative department or was to serve to reduce the surplus revenues of the water department is a 664 question. We confess we do not have the answer.

accompanied by eight cell and hisment of its preminent place in bass. Mme. Sayao produces a lovely cant-like quality in this unusual and very beautiful contribution to our collection.

Our next offering was Bruch's Violin Concerto No. 1 in G Minor, performed by Yehudi Menuhin, Pierre Monteux, and the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, in a manner that makes us cognizant of its preminent place in violin compositions. It was written early in Max Bruch's career and brought him enduring fame.

We brought our evening to a close with the playing of Cesar Franck's Variations Symphoniques, a tender piece of musical writing that touches the inner recesses of the heart with its tuneful and simple lyricism.

County Agricultural Board Elects Officers at Meeting

At a recent meeting of the Princess Anne County Agricultural Board, officers for the year 1938 were elected and installed in office. J. N. Exater was elected president; B. W. Shelton, Jr., vice president, and E. K. Wise, secretary.

Prior to the election of officers, the board members heard W. W. Fane, of the State Agricultural Experiment Station, explain the purposes of the meeting. Among other things, it was decided that the 5,000 acres to be taken out of farms before 1950 had already been accomplished due to the acquisition of lands in the county by the Federal Game Preserve and the Seashore State Park, and that no further recommendation of this character would be made at this time.

Dear Readers:

Several days ago I overheard a Virginia Beach citizen, and incidentally one who works with small children at our Community House, try to frighten a little 3½-year-old girl with threats of calling a policeman and having her locked up in jail where she couldn't get out. If she dared to touch his little boy's bike again. He repeated his threat over and over.

Why aren't the people of Virginia Beach more careful of the type they employ to supervise our children in our Youth Center? Or will just anyone do?

"Dad surely knew what he was doing!"

This letter reproduced with permission

Mr. E. H. Meyhard, Trust Officer
National Bank of Commerce
Norfolk, Virginia
Dear Mr. Meyhard:

Thank you so much for your recent letter which completely answers my questions regarding the estate of my father.

Permit me to tell you again how splendidly I think the bank has handled everything connected with this estate. Last night, in reviewing my correspondence with you, I was amazed at the details involved and the excellent manner in which you have kept the entire family notified and informed of the procedure. To one of my amateurish knowledge of such negotiations, it seemed a mammoth job.

Dad surely knew what he was doing when he made arrangements for the National Bank of Commerce to take care of his estate.

Very sincerely yours,
Robert H. Meyhard

QUININE

The old Peruvian word for the Cinchona tree is Quinine—and that is the name Pierre Feltier and Joseph Cavenot, two French scientists, gave to the chemical which they isolated from the bark of the Cinchona tree in 1820. It is one of the five most important alkaloids obtained from this bark and since its discovery has been largely used in the cure of Malarial Fevers.

MRS. TUCKER ENTERTAINS GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Lawrence Tucker entertained the members of the Virginia Beach Garden Club at the home of her mother, Mrs. Kirkland Ruffin, in Norfolk. Mrs. Floyd Dormire, president, presided. It was announced that the club had won a red ribbon in the Rose Show and a member, Mrs. David Fender, Jr., had won a red ribbon for her arrangement in the Rose Show. Mrs. Charles Grandy, of Norfolk, gave an interesting talk on "Flowering Shrubs in Virginia." Following the meeting tea was served.

State Renews 4-H Soil Conservation Program For 1948

Announcement has been made that the 1948 National 4-H Soil Conservation program will be conducted in Virginia for the fifth consecutive year.

The activity is designed to encourage 4-H Club members to develop a farm family program of soil conservation, for present and future production, which will help prevent soil wastage and deterioration on the home farm.

Typical of the achievements of the 4-H soil conservationists are those of Leon Conner, 18, of Stuart, state winner last year. Leon became interested in soil conservation through his 4-H Club work, which he started in 1943. With his father, Leon consulted the county farm agent. The result was the application of 400 pounds of phosphate to the acre and increased yields. Leon mapped the farm and as a result fenced cattle out of a nine acre woodlot, which is a wild life refuge; set out 1,500 white pines on a hillside and spread 3,200 pounds of phosphate on a 14-acre field which will be used as a permanent pasture. He has clipped the weeds and with his father built terraces and waterways on his cultivated lands. He plans a dam which will give his farm an acre pond which will be stocked with fish next year.

Merit awards for superior 4-H soil conservation records on county, state, sectional and national levels again offered by Firestone include gold medals of honor for county winners and $50.00 U. S. Savings Bonds for the six highest rating entrants in each state. Sixteen selected state winners each receive a sectional award of a trip to the Chicago 4-H Club Congress next November. Eight sectional winners are chosen for national honors, each receiving a $200.00 college scholarship.

Members who won county medals in 1947 were: Euren Greenwood, Amelia; Wilford Spradlin, Bedford; Dewey Thomas, Caroline; Sammy Fields, Craig; Louis Parham, Charlotte; Buford Flora, Franklin; William Gordon, Mecklenburg; Bobby Fike, Pulaski; James Scott, Saxapahaw; and Vera Vanderploeg, Jr., Norfolk. County farm agents will furnish complete information regarding this activity.

Intrigues Male Movie Stars

School Children Aiding Security Loan Drive

The Security Loan Drive will receive new and vigorous impetus at the hands of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County school children.

Already rolling toward what appears to be success, this new effort from hundreds of tiny hands in the town and county was envisioned by Claiborne Bryant, chairman of the Security Loan Drive for Princess Anne County, as the boost the endeavor needed for ultimate victory. Chairman Bryant said he hoped all school children would make clear to their parents the true purpose of the Security Loan Drive, by emphasizing and underlining the word Security.

Chairman Bryant explained during a special interview with a Virginia Beach News reporter that the school children, through the cooperation of teachers and principals, are to take home pledge or order cards during the week of May 10-14. The youngsters will then try to induce Mother and Dad to sign the pledge card, which will simply signify that a Security Savings Bond will be purchased from a bank or post office sometime before the 30 of June. The pledge card will then be returned via the pupil to his classroom teacher. Chairman Bryant said he wanted it clearly understood that no money was to be loaned to the child, nor brought to the school for the purchase of Savings Bonds. The order blank slip will simply be a pledge of intent to purchase. Chairman Bryant urged parents to cooperate with their children in this nation-wide effort, stating that the spirit of participation is conducive to saving the great war effort.

He said he felt the effort also impresses in young life the figure of St. Francis, standing atop a Shrine dedicated in memory of "those who have loved us and served us in faithful humility" is believed to be the only such monument in the world. It is at the Episcopal Church of the Holy Spirit, Germantown (Monkneyer photo).

BREAD UPON THE WATERS

Bread upon the waters
Some day returns;
Help to a friend when down,
Help in time of need—
Bread upon the waters
Some day returns.

A helping hand extended,
Kind thoughts enduring;
Bread upon the waters
Some day returns.

Kind thoughts repaid—
Rapture and shame—
Bread upon the waters
Some day returns.

Kind words spoken,
Lost have regained—
Bread upon the waters
Some day returns.

When your day's toll is over,
Lie thee down to sleep;
Close those pretty eyes and dream;
Let the dream and memory be;
The boy who loves will never harm me.

Go West, Young Lady, If You Want To Hear Wedding Bells

Go west, young lady, if you want that wedding march to play for you. Statistics show that the greatest marriage opportunities in the 88 states are offered in those where single men outnumber single women by 100 to 100, according to an article in the May issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Alaska offers even greater opportunities for marriage-minded maidens, with a ratio of nine single men to each single girl.

And if you want to really hit the marital jackpot, pack your bag and go to the Far East where there are fifty American males for every American girl in Hawaii, the Philippines, Japan, Korea and China—wherever United States forces are based.

In that connection Uncle Sam stands ready to help you by providing employment in those far-flung countries, according to the article which states:

"There are nothing like Uncle Sam's outposts for opportunities. The United States government is now seeking 5,000 girls to fill jobs in the Far East. They need everything from clerk-typists to editors, writers, dietitians, personnel workers and accountants. Salaries range from $2,770 to $38,000 a year, with free travel, low-cost housing and free hospitalization thrown in. The contract calls for nine months' service, and home will be a Quonset hut at approximately $10 a month. Army chow costs about 25 cents a meal.

"For complete information on jobs in China, Japan, Korea and other points of interest in the Far East, write the Overseas Branch Office of the Secretary of War, War Department, Washington, D. C."

Statistics on other states mentioned in the article show that Wyoming has 164 available men to every 100 available women; Montana 150 to 100; Idaho 144 to 100; Arizona 118 to 100; New Mexico 117 to 100; Massachusetts 84 men to 100 women; Georgia 87 single men to every 100 available women; South Carolina 80 men to 100 women; and Washington, D. C., worst of all with only 82 available men to every 100 marriageable girls.

CONCRETE
can take it

CONCRETE streets are an all-year asset to any city. But you'll appreciate them most when spring "break-ups" have made many streets impassable with mud, ruts, bumps and chuckholes.

Concrete is an all-season pavement: easy-riding; skid-resistant; wet or dry; good for decades with little maintenance. No closing for spring repairs!

Concrete not only saves on spring maintenance. It costs less to build than other pavements of equal load-carrying capacity. Be sure your streets are paved with portland cement concrete.

V. P. I. Scholarship To Be Awarded By Horticultural Society

Princess Anne County Agent H. W. Oslin said today that through the Virginia State Horticultural Society and the Women's Auxiliary, an award of $250 will be made to a State girl or boy who wants to take horticulture at V. P. I. during the college year 1948-49. Dr. E. L. Overholser, head of the department, announced the scholarship plan.

The award will be given to a first-year student on the basis of high school record, need of financial help, and demonstrated or expressed interest in horticulture. Applications must be filed through the high school principals and county farm agents and mailed to Dr. Overholser on or before July 1, 1948.

The applications must contain personal information, summary of farming and horticultural experience, recommendations, a transcript of high school credits, and evidence that the applicant has been admitted as a student to V. P. I.

This is the third year the award has been given. Dr. Overholser said. Last year's recipient was Dayton Hubbard, of Blackburg.

If there are any students in Princess Anne County planning to attend V. P. I. next fall and take horticulture, he or she should contact H. W. Oslin for an application blank to apply for this scholarship.

Millions of American families during these days of high living costs are in danger of being under-nourished, warns the National Dairy Council, because housewives are buying according to prices and not according to food values. They play within budgets but may jeopardize family health. So here, says the Dairy Council, is its "Guide to Good Eating"—a safe and sound nutritional guide, on which the council on foods and nutrition of the American Medical Association sets its seal of acceptance. Eat these foods daily to get the basic nutritional requirements of your body, and then eat whatever other foods you want to give you that satisfied feeling.

"Water, Water everywhere..."

"...when I do the work!"

"MY FARMER friends tell me that the most important single job I do on the farm is the supplying of running water through an automatic electric water system.

In the house, running water means city conveniences and comforts for the kitchen, the bathroom, the laundry. On the farm, water under pressure makes increased farm production possible at a great saving in labor. When plenty of water is available, cows give more milk, hens lay more eggs, hogs and beef cattle put on more weight. And garden watering may spell the difference between success and failure during dry spells!

A recent survey in Virginia showed that average farm families used to spend about 77 ten-hour days per year to pump and carry 138 tons of water. Today, an electric water system will supply an abundance of water under pressure for less than one dollar per month for electricity!

For an adequate installation, good planning requires checking the source of water, type and capacity of the pump, and piping. See your local dealer, county agent or one of our representatives.

Curly which these buildings represent and the length of service they have given. It would seem very reasonable for the School Board of Princess Anne County to abandon them and charge the entire cost of the buildings to normal depreciation. Such a procedure would seem particularly advisable since many of the buildings are located on land to which the School Board does not possess title.

Concerning the construction of a high school and recommendations regarding plant facilities and location, the commission recommended the purchase of additional land adjacent to the Princess Anne Training School at Euclid and construction of "a new building to house a comprehensive offering."

"The committee feels that it is particularly desirable to develop a new plant in this location since the present building could be used to house the vocational program that would be a part of the new comprehensive high school center. In the judgment of the committee, it would be unwise to undertake to enlarge the existing building," the report stated.

Concluding the report with a commentary on building schedules and costs, the committee stated:

"The recommendations of this survey should be regarded as a basis for a long-term building program. However, the need for adequate school buildings for the Negroes of Princess Anne County is so great that the school officials should proceed as rapidly as possible to construct the buildings suggested in this report. In the event that not all of the proposed buildings can be constructed at the same time, the committee recommends that a definite building schedule be set up by the school officials of Princess Anne County."

estimated cost $9,000.00.

Arthur L. Halstead, residence, Lot 7, Block 20, Section D, Cape Henry; estimated cost $6,000.00.

Grayson Harding, residence, Lot 1, Block 9, Section D, Cape Henry; estimated cost $9,800.00.

Following receipt of this report, school board officials appeared before the County Board of Supervisors to request that cooperation in securing an order for a referendum to decide by popular vote whether a $250,000 bond issue should be floated to provide the funds for construction of the Euclid school. The issue was rejected by the vote in a referendum held December 18, 1947.

LIGHTNING PROTECTION

IS A NECESSARY AND CERTAIN CLASSE FOR THE PROTECTION OF A GOOD HOME OR BUSINESS FOR ALL WEATHERS.

Lightning is no respecter of persons or property. It is most constantly descending on all of Nature's elements, and it is the ONE DESTRUCTIVE FORCE THAT CAN BE CONTROLLED AND RENDERED HARMLESS.

The application to any building of "NATIONAL" approved and patented LIGHTNING PROTECTION SYSTEM insures for that building—its contents, and those within the structure COMPLETE immunity from the lightning hazard.

INSURING IS A "MAY BE" AND IS "DANGEROUS" IS NOT.

Lightning Kills—it injures—it destroys. Many people are killed each year by lightning; many more are injured, injured, or shocked with disastrous effects.

The average annual lightning loss is to some of $2,500,000.00 and every dollar of this loss represents preventable waste.

Brendon, Jr., of Norfolk, and teachers and school boy patrol captains from Norfolk schools.

Mayor Richard D. Cooke, of Norfolk, will deliver the address of welcome at the opening of the conference and G. Leslie Hall, president of Tidewater Automobile Association, will be banquet toastmaster on May 21. The invocation will be delivered by Dr. Jason Leach, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. On the Pedestal

The Italian composer, Rossini, learned while visiting in France that a group of wealthy admirers planned to have a statue erected to his memory.

"How much will it cost?" inquired the composer.

"Ten million francs," he was told. Poverty-stricken at the time, Rossini chuckled. "For half of that sum I'll stand on the pedestal myself."

Make Summer Days Safe Days Says AAA Through Poster

Summertime is playtime for children of school age; but, unfortunately, this is also a time when streets are often used as playgrounds—with sad results in unnecessary traffic fatalities and injuries. During 1946, 26 per cent of the traffic accidents in the United States involving the 5 to 14 age group occurred when these children were playing in the roadway or hitchhiking on a vehicle, according to John B. Dey, vice president of the Tidewater Automobile Association.

"So that vacation days may be unmarred by traffic accidents, all children should follow the rule, 'Play Away From Traffic'." Mr. Dey said. "Parents should take greater responsibility for guiding their children in the recognition and use of safe places to play. Safety activities in school classrooms this month emphasize this point, being planned to direct the attention of the students to games and places to play that will keep them away from traffic."

"The 'Play Away From Traffic' poster being distributed to schools here by the Tidewater Automobile Association is one of the ten first-place winners in the 1947 National School Traffic Safety Poster Contest, sponsored by the American Automobile Association and affiliated automobile clubs. It was created by John W. Milligan, Armstrong High School, Washington, D. C. With this poster, are distributed teaching units aimed at making students aware of the necessity to play away from traffic, and urging them to participate in community playground programs or in backyard playgrounds, vacant lots, and other places away from traffic."

C. & P. Planning Expansion Of Facilities In State

The board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia have approved expenditures of $1,291,000 for the improvement and expansion of telephone facilities in the state.

An expenditure of $507,000 was approved for the installation of dial equipment in the company's Hull Street office in Richmond. This installation completes the first unit of dial equipment in the office and will provide a total of 6,160 subscriber lines with capacity for serving more than 3,200 main telephones.

In Norfolk, $290,000 was allocated for the provision of additional subscriber cable facilities to the south and east sections of Ocean View. The project involves the placing of 6 1/2 miles of aerial cable and more than six miles of underground cable.

More than $140,000 was approved for the replacement and modification of telephone sets in connection with the conversion of Lynchburg's telephone system to dial operation scheduled for 1949. Dials will be installed on 14,500 telephones at subscribers premises; and 3,500 manual telephones will be replaced with dial instruments.

Expenditures totaling more than $65,000 were approved for the installation of additional equipment in the company's central offices at Mechanicsville, Poquoson, and the Grace Street toll office in Richmond.

The proposed conversion of Salem's telephone system to dial operation brought approval by the directors of $25,000 for the replacement and modification of

Also needed are 43 non-rated firemen and firemen apprentices. Personnel who wish to apply for this duty should address their requests to their commanding officer if they are members of an organized unit, volunteer reservists should address their requests to the Commandant, Fifth Naval District, Norfolk 11, Virginia. Included with these requests should be a statement that the reservist will remain on active duty until December 1948.

Naval Reservists who are chosen for this duty will receive full pay and allowances, including sea pay.

Telephone sets. The directors also authorized an expenditure of more than $60,000 for the construction of a one-story building addition to the company's office at Virginia Beach and for additional switchboard equipment to meet present needs and future demands.

The $1,291,000 allocated by the directors is part of the service improvement and expansion program the C. and P. now has underway in the state. It brings to more than $5,500,000 the amount appropriated since January, 1946, for these purposes.

Virginia Beach Entertainment Being Readied for Opening May 28

Full Schedule of Famous "Name Bands" Booked May 28 Through Labor Day

Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club Opening Dance Tonight; Supper Clubs Already Open

By Irene Fleeming

Night spots and amusement places at Virginia Beach, many of them already open and ready for vacation crowds, are expected to be in full swing for the Memorial Day holiday.

Super and better bands and entertainment features are promised for the 1948 season, with the two Ocean Front beach clubs still holding the record for top-notch "name" orchestras and the Hillcrest Club management promising a schedule of well-known favorites to be announced later, in a bid for runner-up position.

Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club Open Tonight

Rayce Stoenner, brilliant musician-arranger, who comes to the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club for their opening tonight, has one of the most entertaining orchestras in the business today. In addition to being a talented trumpet and saxophone player, he has surrounded himself with an organization of outstanding musicians and entertainers.

June 3, including Sunday's tea dance and night session. Incidentally, the orchestras that are booked for this year will play for the Sunday tea dances in addition to their regular nightly engagements. Heretofore, other orchestras have been brought in for the Sunday afternoon parties, but Manager Jack Kane has arranged with the top band leaders scheduled to include the Sunday tea-time program as part of their engagement arrangements.

Following Tommy Dorsey's engagement, other top-flight bands to appear at the Surf Club will include:

- June 4, Russ Carlyle
- June 11, Ethel Anderson
- June 18, Blue Barron
- June 25, Guy Lombardo
- July 2, Ted Weista
- July 9, Xavier Cugat or Lawrence Welk (tentative booking)
- July 16, Carmen Cavallaro
- July 23, The Three Suns and Buddy Moreno
- July 30, Gene Krupa
- August 6, Eddie Duchin or Glen Gray (tentative booking)
- August 13, Louis Prima
- August 20, Skinny Minis or Ted Streeter (tentative booking)
- August 26 through Labor Day, Sammy Kaye.

Jack Kane and Murray Kossman, who have purchased the Surf Club after operating it as members of a corporation last year, have made arrangements for lunches, dinner and late supper to be served by a well-known caterer and restaurateur. The club has been redecorated, a new soda fountain has been added, and court cabanas and cabaretas will be available to members and guests.

Supper Clubs Vie for Honors

Virginia Beach is fortunate in having three excellent supper clubs, each contending for top honors in culinary achievement, and the score so closely tied it would be difficult to award anything less than first prize to either contestant. Piney Point Beach Club serves wonderful steaks. The Ocean Club serves wonderful Chinese dishes. The Colonial Club serves wonderful Crab Imperial.

Other nationally famous orchestras already signed or being booked for the season at the Cavalier Club include Frankie Carl, Woody Herman, Chuck Foster, Dick Jurgens, Johnny Loner, Buddy Waples, Joseph Sudy, Dean Hudson, George Olson, Vincent Lopez, Jimmy Livingston and Victor Lombardo, the club management has announced.

The outdoor sun deck dance floor, which borders the club's sandy beach, has been reconditioned and the entire club redecorated for the opening. Erection of more cabanas now provides three rows on the north terrace and two rows on the south terrace. Kitchen facilities have been doubled to meet an increasing demand for food service.

A children's playground and additional parking lots also have been built. The day nursery is equipped with slides, see-saws and other modern playground devices. It will be supervised by qualified kindergarten instructors.

A private membership club which has established itself as the summer rendezvous for Virginia society, the Beach Club extends privileges to guests of the Cavalier Hotel. Special cards are furnished guests at many other Virginia Beach hotels maintaining Beach Club membership.

The club's spacious indoor Panorama Room, furnished with entertainment and dancing every day. Bands and tables are moved indoors whenever the weather is inclement.

Surf Beach Club members and guests of the major resort hotels may begin their nightly dancing May 28 with Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra in the opening spotlight and continuing through Others taking part in the program will include Tommy Currie as narrator, Randy Billington and Billy Jenkins as heralds, Dexter Chadwick and Roy Smith as pages, John Speece as the crown bearer, Helen Gilbert and Mary Anne Mosley as flower girls, and Clyde Whitehead and Terry Beagle as train bearers.

Music for the event has been arranged by the high school and elementary school bands, under the direction of James A. Cantwell, and by the Glee Club, directed by Miss Earline Arpantrout.

Dances and drills staged by pupils of the various elementary grades will complete the program. Mrs. S. B. Myers and Mrs. J. E. Coates are co-chairmen of the May Day program, and Mrs. Myers is author of the monologue. Miss Anna Gordon Barrett arranged the May Court and the May Pole dance.

The program of the 27th annual convention of Virginia Federated Music Club, now in progress and continuing through tomorrow in Luray, Virginia, lists a series of outstanding events of general interest. Programs include a recital by John Powell, noted pianist, singing by massed choirs, under nationally known leaders, carillon music and many other events of unusual appeal to music lovers. More than 2,000 are visiting Luray during the convention.

The principal event will take place tonight when John Powell, considered the outstanding American composer and pianist, will give a recital at the Methodist Church, followed by a reception at the Mimosa Hotel in compliment to Dr. Powell and the delegates. At 8 p.m. today, Noble Cain, choral leader of Chicago, will lead massed choruses at the Singing Tower in which all federated state choirs are invited to participate. At 6 p.m. on the Singing Tower lawn, at the main entrance to Luray Caverns, Allyn Howell, choral director of Fredericksburg will lead a chorus of 300 from his city. Mary B. Woolsey, of Danville, will give a piano recital at 12:30 p.m. at the Methodist Church in Luray.

Most of the activity on Thursday was held at Madison College in Harrisonburg. At this time the massed choirs of colleges plus clubs sang in Wilson Hall Auditorium under the direction of Miss T. Schaeffer, chairman of College Choral Auditions. Dr. Hassel Wayne Morgan, chairman of Music in Colleges of the National Federation of Music Clubs, gave an address. At 8:15 p.m., the Washington Choral Society gave a concert in Wilson Hall, directed by Louis Fieger.

Tomorrow's program will be largely devoted to auditions of Junior groups. Winners of superior ratings in state competitive singing will be announced and at 11:15 a.m. Mrs. R. T. Keith, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, will speak. Junior massed choruses will sing at the Singing Tower at 2:30 p.m., under the direction of A. J. Lammert, Portsmouth, and at 8 p.m. there will be folk songs and dancing on the Singing Tower lawn under the direction of Richard Chase.

The program is replete with numerous social functions and special musical events. The local chairman is Charles T. Chapman, carillonist of the Luray Singing Tower, assisted by Mrs. E. D. Fendland, Mrs. James Emerson, Mrs. K. O. Heiston and Mrs. Gail Campbell, Jr. The Luray Garden Club is in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Greene and Mr. Heutte Presented At Club's Final Meeting

Frederick Heutte, designer of the aspen gardens in Princess Anne County, talked about control of insects and diseases in plants and flowers at the May meeting of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, which was the final meeting in the current club year.

The club's luncheon Tuesday at the Pine Tree Inn was followed by a talk by Mr. Winfield Greene, whose paintings and wallpaper designs have created nationwide interest. Mrs. Greene described some of her paintings and designs, displaying some of her most popular subjects.

Mrs. Wallace Clarke, who attended the last convention of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs recently, gave a report of the convention.

The program was arranged by Mrs. James McNeel. Flower decorations were donated by Mrs. McNeel and the garden committee, which includes Mrs. C. W. Arnold, Jr., Mrs. G. T. Muller, Mrs. Joseph H. Proudfoot, Mr. Mrs. Levin Thomas, Mrs. W. B. McNeel and Mrs. DeWitt Jones.

The May day program will now need to protect their children during relatively short periods when they are out in sun.

Simply because both help to stretch the material on hand.

Today, despite the rapid progress on our tremendous service improvement and expansion program, a lot of folks are still waiting for telephones. And party lines mean more service for more people sooner.

If you're on a party line, you can help yourself to better telephone service by following these few simple suggestions:

1. Try to make your calls necessarily brief.

2. Whenever possible, allow an interval between calls so that others can use the line.

3. Try to answer the telephone as promptly as you can.

4. Please don't interrupt when the line is in use, except in case of emergency.

5. Ask the children to follow these friendly suggestions, too.

Party-line service is good service when everyone co-operates!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Job Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Job Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like hard concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose... no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

Captain's New Equipped With Terrain Indicators

Washington, May 12—Captain James B. Franklin, Director of Operations for Capital Airlines, has announced that all Capital Airlines are now equipped with the new Terrain Clearance Indicator.

The Terrain Clearance Indicator, or Radio Altimeter as it is also called, indicates to the pilot the plane's actual height above the ground. (The plane's regular altimeter records height above sea level.) The radio altimeter transmits a signal downward and forward of the aircraft toward the ground which then reflects the signal back to the aircraft. The instrument interprets and reflects the signal as measured electronically and gives an altitude by the instrument on the pilot's panel.

The unit also contains a light system which warns the pilot whenever the aircraft has less than desired terrain clearance. When the pilot reaches the altitude at which the warning will be given, he can maintain flight over the highest obstructions with maximum safety.

General use of the Terrain Clearance Indicator by the scheduled airlines is another major step forward in their efforts to provide the public with maximum safety and dependability," Captain Franklin said. "Capital Airlines has already installed Instrument Landing Equipment, a radio device which guides the pilot from flight level to the runway, on all its planes. Such measures are but a small part in the airlines' continuing program to insure on-time arrivals, with safety and comfort."

Swink Calls For Thought In Installing Water Systems

Farmers thinking of installing an automatic water system should do some careful planning before turning to E. T. Swink, a local agricultural engineer for the Extension Service.

Referring to electric water systems as one of the most valuable uses of electricity on the farm, he said users often fail to receive the most benefits because of improper selection and installation of equipment.

Mr. Swink listed three common errors as pertaining to the source of water, selection of the pump, and protecting the system from freezing.

The source of water should be pure, adequate and dependable, the water supply should be protected against the entrance of contaminating surface water, he said.

He warned against buying a pump too small for the job. The capacity of the pump to buy can only be determined after "a careful analysis of both present and future water requirements." Information can be obtained from your county agent which will help you estimate the amount of water that will be used daily. "A smaller outfit will be overworked, which will result in fewer years of satisfactory service," Mr. Swink said. Various types and sizes of water systems are available to meet individual needs.

Many pumping outfits are not protected against freezing and damage. Good protection for the pump will minimize repair bills and will increase the useful life of the system. The pump location should be frost-proof, and it also should be well drained and vented. Some systems can be installed to automatically drain when the pump is not in use.

"A pump of adequate capacity with good protection against freezing and damage, and a reliable source of water is the very heart of a farm water system. After the requirements of these steps have been met, the various conveniences can be installed as needed devices and features permit," Mr. Swink said.

University Hospital Seeking Funds; 17 Princess Anne Patients Listed

Evidence of the service rendered to the people of Virginia by the Medical School and Hospital of their State University is revealed this week in a survey of the number of admissions and clinic visits to the University of Virginia Hospital during the past twenty-one months.

A small army of Virginians—103,486 in number—have visited the daily clinics at the University Hospital during the period from July 1, 1946 to April 1, 1948. This figure does not include those people who were admitted to the hospital as bed-patients. Hospital admissions would boost the total an estimated twenty per cent.

Patients from every one of Virginia's 100 counties were treated at the University Hospital during the fiscal year from July 1946 to June 1947. Twenty-three states, Hawaii, and Argentina are also listed as homes of University Hospital patients.

Seventeen hospital admissions and clinic visits are recorded for Princess Anne County during the last fiscal year alone. During January, February and March of this year, seven Princess Anne residents have been treated at the clinics of the University Hospital.

Results of the survey are summed up by Dr. Carlisle S. Lentz, administrator of the hospital, in the following statement:

"This survey of patients shows that the University's Hospital and Medical School are serving, not merely the Piedmont region, but the entire state from the Eastern shore to the Tennessee border.

"Thomas Jefferson, when he founded the University, realized that only a centrally located institution could best serve all of the people of Virginia. When, in 1893, the faculty of the Medical School recommended a hospital and when, in 1901, the hospital opened, this Jeffersonian idea of service to all Virginians was kept in mind.

"Since his realization has come true, we at the University, particularly those of us concerned with health and medicine, feel that the people of Virginia must be interested in the future of their University's Hospital and Medical School.

"We've had ample evidence of their interest in the past in the form of unsolicited gifts to the hospital, and we hope that all Virginians now will demonstrate this interest through their support of the University of Virginia Development Fund. Gifts of whatever size within a person's means are welcome," Dr. Lentz concludes.

The medical project among the eight immediate needs of the $7,800,000 nation-wide fund-raising effort is a total of $2,250,000 in gifts toward the construction of a medical center at the University.

The newer portions of the present, over-crowded medical plant will be retained by the older wings will be remodeled to fit in with plans for a central hospital structure, a clinic building, and an enlarged medical school building.

Following the business session of the class, refreshments were served.

Take Your Choice, Neighbor!

The missus—who writes our Woman's Column in the Clarion under the name of "Nancy Gale"—gets letters about recipes, advice on etiquette, home management, etc.

One letter she got last week was about a recipe she published for Welsh Rarebit—made with tart cheese, Worcestershire, and a cup of sparkling tangy beer. "Turned out great," says her correspondent. "But you didn't mention what beverage to serve with it. Should I serve beer? Cider? Iced tea?"

The missus' answer was simply:

"Any beverage your guests prefer. You don't have to serve cider—any more than you have to serve beer...but it's often courteous to let guests have a choice."

From where I sit, that simple answer applies to more items than Welsh Rarebit. In a world where everyone has different tastes and ideas—we should recognize those differences—and never deny the right of choice to anyone!

Now that spring is in full swing, you'll want to enjoy plenty of daytime playtime. And you can... if you plan easy-to-fix dinners. One of my favorites features spaghetti-meat casseroles as the main course and delicious shortcake for dessert. Want the recipe? Read on!

FOOD FORTHOUGHT

An emergency food shelf simplifies cooking no end. And among the wife-savers I always keep on mine are A&P's tasty IONA TOMATOES. Like all A&P's IONABRAND CANNED GOODS, they're Grade C, which means they're just as nutritious as A&P and SULTANA (A&P's A and B grades), but cost less. The chief difference is in size and appearance, so they're ideal for use in dishes like the one below.

CORNER-CUTTING CASSEROLE

Brown 1 1/2 lbs. hamburger and 1 large onion (chopped) in 1 tbsp. fat; add an 8 oz. package of A&P's ANN PAGE SPAGHETTI cooked according to package directions. 2 tps. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1 #2 1/2 can (8 3/4 cups) IONA TOMATOES and 1 can tomato soup. Pour into greased casserole; sprinkle with buttered crumbs, and bake 30 minutes in moderate oven, 350° F. Serves 6.

SHORTCAKE IN SHORT ORDER

This is shortcake season at my house, but that doesn't mean extra work for me. My recipe for shortcake is short and sweet—thanks to oven-ready JANE PARKER POUND CAKE from the A&P. I simply cover thick slices of this light and luscious cake with strawberries or peaches, and top them with whipped cream. Could anything be easier to make... or to take?

"Take good care of it!"

Yes, pennies from a piggy bank are riches untold to a pigtailed six-year-old. Naturally, she wants to be sure they're safe.

Because even the smallest account is important to a bank, Nancy's pennies will be wisely invested. Some of them will go into utility securities—into business-managed electric light and power companies. Like our own. That will make Nancy one of our owners—an indirect owner. And, if you have a savings account or life insurance policy

(most people do), it's almost certain that you're an indirect owner, too.

There are thousands of direct owners as well—people from all walks of life who have invested their savings in this company. All kinds of people—your friends and neighbors—the man across the way, the housewife next door, farmers, mechanics, doctors, industrial workers, teachers, craftsmen, nurses.

Yes, your electric light and power company is owned by the people it serves.

THE VIRGINIA BEACH NEWS.

A WORD OF PRAISE FOR A WORTHY GROUP

The Virginia Beach Little Theater's first offering, "My Sister Eileen," produced proof positive that our faith in the talent around Virginia Beach, promised during the performance of the "Beach Folies," was justified.

Every phase of production—lighting, stage settings, costumes, and all the other details—were carried out with professional technique. Miss Carol Simpson's expert direction provided a finished performance, with acting honors going to relatively inexperienced actors and actresses who rehearsed and performed under great difficulties.

We think that the first production indicates that the Virginia Beach Little Theater is going to be a great success and that the townspeople soon will realize that it is a medium through which fine entertainment may be provided while, at the same time, training our talented youngsters and older people for broader accomplishments.

WHO'S TO BLAME?

Once again it seems to be "open season" for the juvenile populace of Norfolk and Virginia Beach. Every year, for as long as we can remember, the high school fraternities and sororities have been coming to Virginia Beach for at least one big house party. And every year, after they have left, the local police, residents and hotel operators have complained bitterly that, this time, they were worse than ever.

Ten years ago they said the same thing. After our last experience at a high school house party, we "juvenile delinquents" were all but deported. The only difference in this year's performance that could be noted was that the cars driven by the "adolescents" were bright and shiny new. (Our jalopies were of the battered and worn variety.)

Rather than curtail and repeat performance, the arrests of last week will serve only as a goal for next year's activities. The culprits of this year will be the idols of next.

Not in defense of lawlessness and vandalism, but rather to place the blame where it rightfully belongs, if the hotel operators continue to accept these guests and their money, knowing the previous record, then they should accept the consequences.

A LESSON IN GOVERNMENT AND STATESMANSHIP!

Senator Harry Flood Byrd, in a memorandum to the Virginia Beach News, has warned that the people of this country shortly may face an increase in taxes of $10 billion and pointed out that "the economy program in Washington has almost completely collapsed. It is only an aroused public sentiment that will prevent the catastrophe of a tax burden which may weaken, if not destroy, our capitalistic system." The Senator concluded his memorandum by writing, "I would regard very highly your views on this subject and would appreciate it if you should be kind enough to write me."

In a speech in the Senate last week, the Senator, who is a member of the Senate Finance Committee, openly cited facts and figures indicating that, unless greater economy in government is practiced, there will be an excess of expenditures over revenue which will make it necessary to pass a new tax bill next Spring. "The danger is imminent," he said, "and presents a great menace to our system of free private enterprise."

The News heartily endorses the Senator's stand and concurs with him in his request for economy in government. Beyond that, the News applauds the Senator for his willingness to present the facts to the public and to ask for public expression. Here is a man who, having the courage of his convictions, does not hesitate to point to the extravagance and unwise spending of the governmental body of which he is a member, the United States Senate. He makes no attempt to shield his colleagues, Democratic or Republican, nor does he attempt to minimize the faults and magnify the virtues of his party.

How truly great this country would be if there were more statesmen of Senator Byrd's calibre at all levels of government, from local to National.

As a matter of conjecture, it would be interesting to observe the result if the Senator could be persuaded to become a member of the Virginia Beach Town Council!

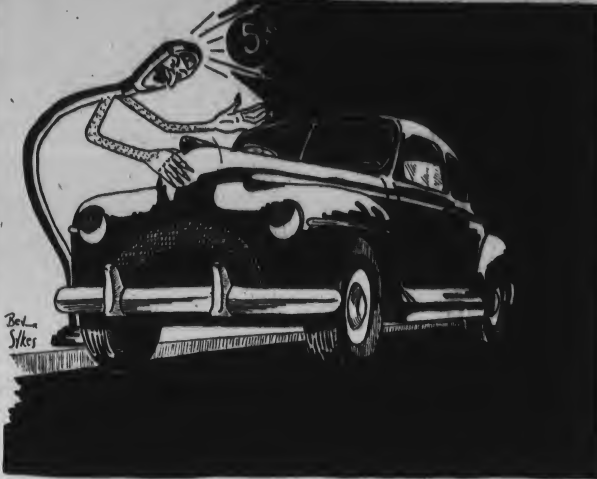

BOUNDS IN, BUNDS OUT!

Motorists around town are finding it a pleasure to drive along the streets in many sections formerly presenting hazards to tire and axle. No longer is it necessary for them to remind themselves to slow up for the big rut in front of the Deakes' house.

Undoubtedly, much of the credit for the greatly improved street conditions must go to Carroll Bounds, appointed as Town Engineer, with high praise, at the May meeting of the Council. Mr. Bounds, unquestionably, has done a good job.

We'd like to suggest that we retain Mr. Bounds and revise our system of elections. If we were to elect two Councilmen each year, rather than three every two years, perhaps our current improvement program would become an annual program!

HOW SOON?

Musical Musings

by Milton Epstein

Rimsky-Korsokoff is known as "the Russian who dared to write happy music." His Arabian Nights Suite, "Scheherazade" is probably as well known as any of his compositions, though much success has attended his waxes and satirical opera, "Le Coq D'Or."

Scheherazade is an interpretative account of four of the incidents in the Thousand and One Nights. It pictures the Sultan's menacing figure in bold opening phrases, which give way to the plaintive pleading of the violin uttering Scheherazade's tender song.

She tells the story of the Sea and Sinbad the Sailor; the undulations of the waves and the sea rhythm are well pictured. Overall, we hear the story of Sinbad's adventures; and Scheherazade has gained a day's respite.

The second movement of this symphonic suite tells us of Prince Kalender. This clowning courtier, dignified in his poverty, brings the narrative to a barbaric episode, full of brilliant liveliness.

The young prince and the young princess is the title of the third movement. This is purely Oriental in feeling and of great tenderness. It is idyllic, delicate and completely lyrical, as the prince sings of his love, and the princess admits of her emotion.

The concluding movement of the suite is titled "Festival at Baghdad, the Sea and the Shipwreck." The Sultan's menacing voice is once more heard, reminding us that Scheherazade must continue to weave her spell of fantastic stories. She rushes into the weird and lurid tale of the festival, one of Rimsky's most colorful passages. This is the Orient with its rich coloring, vivid, intense, and gay.

By the Sultan has tired of this tale, his voice is heard, threateningly, and Scheherazade, perceptive of his changing moods, quickly transfers the scene to the sea, and aboard ship with Sinbad the Sailor. The Sultan is relaxed for amusement only. But the resourceful Sultana, seeing that his ephemeral interest is lagging, tells of the shipwreck, after which she lets the Sultan quietly drowse and herself retires for one more night of safety.

From his captivating opera, "Le Coq D'Or," we listened to the famous "Hymn to the Sun," an old recording sung by Mabel Garrison. A setting of Pushkin's poem, "The Prophet," by Rimsky-Korsokoff is wonderfully sung by Chalapin, the great Russian Basso, who records this vividly and dramatically.

REVIEW and OUTLOOK

PROGRESS OF THE WEEK—AN EDITORIAL APPRAISAL

(Reprinted from The Wall Street Journal)

Predictions that the government will be forced into deficit financing in the "foreseeable future," increasing instead of reducing the national debt, are becoming more numerous in high quarters. This week Senator Byrd said the Treasury would go into the red before June 30, 1949, and that in the succeeding fiscal year its deficit would be $7 billion. He is not the first of these Cassandra. On April 1 last A. L. M. Wiggin, Under-Secretary of the Treasury, speaking before the Academy of Political Science, calculated that the $4.8 billion surplus budgeted for the fiscal year 1949 would become an actual deficit of $700 million. Now the Federal Reserve Board chimes in with a surmise that the Treasury may show a current deficit through the balance of this calendar year.

Nothing in the current Congressional doings contradicts these prophecies of gloom. The other day the Senate voted to authorize $708 million for the civil functions of the Army Department during the coming year. The House had approved only $608 million for these works, chiefly river and harbor improvements. The military program is already more than $3 billion in excess of the budget figure and the ceiling has not yet been set. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee favors military aid to a western European union. President Truman asks $150 million to assist economic recovery in Japan and Korea. This aid is presumed to reduce our occupation costs there—but when?

These and other spending propensities on the part of our rulers combine to set up a great price-inflationary impact on the American economy. There are, however, some potential offsets. As Mr. Wiggin pointed out, the Treasury's cash balance, the sales of savings bonds and reinvestment of social security and other trust fund receipts in government obligations should make possible some considerable retirement of bank-held government debt, which is an anti-inflationary process. But it is to be noted that, in the presence of a Treasury deficit, the second and third sources of funds mentioned do not reduce the total of the pub-

THE AMERICAN WAY

TWO FUNDAMENTALS

By Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peale is minister of historic Marble Collegiate Church on Fifth Ave., New York City.)

Down in the Tennessee mountains is a rugged, individual American. According to a story by Dr. William L. Stidner, government engineers were flooding a deep valley in the mountains in connection with the electrical power program. Cabins on the mountainside had to be moved and one of these was occupied by this old mountaineer, whose family had lived there for generations.

When the government engineers interviewed him about moving, he refused even though offered five times as much as his land and cabin were worth. The Government built a house of native stone and installed modern conveniences. They took the old gentleman to this fine, new, modern house and informed him it was a present if he would move from the old cabin. His reply was: "Nope, won't move."

Mystified, the engineers asked, "But why not?" The old man explained that his grandfather had started a fire on the hearth in the old cabin and had instructed his son to keep it going as a sort of sacred family symbol. His father in turn had passed on to him the heritage, now sacred, of keeping alight the fires of his forefathers. The engineers, with typical American sentiment and resourcefulness, made the proposition that they would gather up the fire and deposit it upon the hearth in the new house, thus keeping the ancient fire alive in a new setting. To this the old man agreed. Said he, "All I want is to keep alive the fires of my fathers."

It is very important for a nation to pause at intervals and solemnly inquire whether the ancient fires still burn. Have we allowed the flame of freedom to die down? Does it burn as brightly as when our fathers ignited it in this new land? The long traditions coming down from the past must be carefully tended unless they are to be lost.

Some unscholarly people flippantly disregard the great traditions of a nation. These light minds assume themselves superior to all the past, as if all history began yesterday. They seem blindly unaware that a great tree climbs to the sky and is able to cope with winds and storms because the roots are sunk deeply into the earth. Up from those roots comes the life-giving energy which keeps the tree alive through long years. The sacred traditions of a nation feed the lifeblood of today from the creative experience of the past. Attention to the basic traditions of a nation serves to perpetuate the ideals of a people.

Basically two fundamental concepts underlie the American structure of government: the sovereignty of God as the Ruler of this land, and the sacredness and supreme worth of the individual human soul. These two majestic ideas joined to make this nation and together constitute the heart of our heritage.

God's overshadowing presence has ever been recognized in American history. On one of the most fateful days in our national life the greatest figure in our history stood upon the field of Gettysburg and declared that "this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom." That always has been the basic philosophy of the American, that under God our freedom shall be preserved, under God our freedom shall develop, under God shall we develop human happiness.

Long ago William Penn said, "Unless we are governed by God, we will be governed by tyrants." Man must have a God. If he abandons the God of the Old Testament and the New Testament, there is only one God, therefore, that will take the place of the Divine Being thus pushed aside, and that is the superstate, which is in essence the deification of man. Pitifully then free men will quell before the colossal power of the state, their freedom gone.

Deeply rooted in the American tradition is the idea of the sacredness of human personality and the sovereignty of God. Upon these two pillars rests American freedom. Let us resolve that our prayers and our service be given to the perpetuity of these sacred principles which make for human freedom and the well-being of mankind.

lie debt. Their use to shift debt from the banking system to individuals or trust funds is wholesome, but the extent of that shifting will be reduced by the extent of a Treasury deficit. If the deficit reaches such proportions as Senator Byrd apprehends, not much out-of-bank transfer of debt could be accomplished. Fortunately—perhaps—reinforcements are galloping to Senator Byrd's aid. Senator Bridges, chairman of the joint budget committee, demands of his Republican colleagues that they put the brakes on government spending. It's a job for heroes in a campaign year.

Littlest Brownie and Biggest Tree

Spreading Tulip Tree, Said To Be The Largest East of the Mississippi River, Is Site for Brownie Rites.

Located Near Alanton, Magnificent Specimen Holds Special Significance for Troop 216

By I. Flemming

Towering above its surrounding neighbors and visible for miles around stands a giant tulip tree, deep in the heart of a forest bordering the residential settlement known as Alanton, in Princess Anne County.

Here, at certain seasons of the year and on special occasions celebrated only by elves and Brownies, small future Girl Scouts assemble for rituals and ceremonies of momentous importance.

Under the spreading arms of the huge tree, the tiny Brownie Scouts in their brown uniforms take on an elfin appearance in the dappled sunshine filtering through its branches. The Brownies love the cool spot, with myriads of plants growing nearby and offering unlimited opportunities for nature study.

Measuring 18 feet in circumference, the tulip tree is said by some to be the largest east of the Mississippi River. Mrs. Emmet Kyle, leader of Brownie Troop 216, says her father, Henry Venable, hunted in many areas, north and south, and reported he had never seen a larger tree from the forests of Maine to the swamps of Florida.

Whether or not contentions concerning its size are correct, the tree is a magnificent specimen. Its graceful leaves and colorful tulip-shaped flowers are borne on sturdy limbs, symmetrically arranged so that, from a distance, it has the appearance of a huge oval dome of green.

Brownies of Troop 216, who look upon the tree as their special property, are listed as Myra McKenney, Edith Mary Darden, Amber Rau, Patay Goodwin, Mary Rose Goodwin, Ann Smith, Susan Brown, Patay Hitchings, Carolyn Lucas, Editha Shelton, Nellie Baillo, Mickey Baillo, Annette James, Jackie Hill and Ethel Hitchings.

4-Hers Carry Out 1948 Theme By Landscaping Homes

"Creating better homes today for more responsible citizenship tomorrow"—the 1948 theme of 78 thousand 4-H Clubs throughout America—is being carried out by boys and girls beautifying their farmsteads.

Among their landscaping activities are planting flower gardens, trees and shrubs; improving lawns; relocating drives; building outdoor furniture and fireplaces; repairing fences and removing old, unsightly outbuildings on their farms.

As incentives for superior records of achievement, awards are again provided in the 1948 National 4-H Home Grounds Beautification program by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen for the eleventh consecutive year. Awards comprise medals of honor for county winners and gold watches for state champions. Eight national winners will receive educational trips to the Chicago 4-H Club Congress next November.

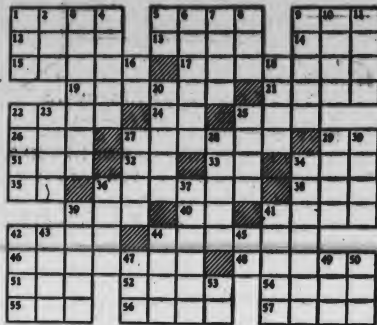

Last year's state winner in Virginia was David Palmer, of Crystal

Hill, Halifax County. The Princess Anne County winner was Audrey Humphries.

Complete information regarding this activity will be supplied by county extension agents.

"New Look" Favored by Shoplifters, Long Skirts Hide Multitude of Sins

Shoplifters love the "new look" because of the greater opportunities the new fashions for women give them to conceal stolen articles. Every retail store in any community is a fair target for shoplifters whose depredations cost United States merchants approximately $80,000,000 a year, according to an article in the April issue of American Druggist magazine. How the "new look" aids women shoplifters is described in the article which tells of a shoplifters' device employed years ago when women wore their skirts long.

"This device is a strong elastic band that fits tightly above the knee and has a few hooks attached," the article states in part. "With this device the shoplifter merely bends down as if to tie a shoe string, and in a flash the stolen item is quickly attached to one of the dangling hooks."

Many other forms of shoplifting are described in the article which calls attention to the diversified types who indulge in this form of thievery.

"Shoplifting is one form of crime that isn't monopolized by the criminal element," the article declares. "Doctors, lawyers, executives, ministers, school teachers, the wealthy, and even members of royalty have been caught red-handed in the act of shoplifting, as it goes without saying that you have to keep your eyes open at all times to avoid being victimized."

A department store detective in Cincinnati nabbed 36 shoplifters in one day. If this doesn't prove anything else, it should prove that shoplifters are very busy people. No wonder they steal merchandise valued at $80,000,000 each year."

The circus is playing in Madison Square Garden. One of the eye openers is Unus of Vienna, the "gravity-defying, equilibrium wonder." He puts his feet in the air and balances himself, supported only by one forefinger, the tip of which rests on a glass ball. A lot of people are seeing the circus on television. In many ways television is better than the grandstand. You can see the heads of perspiration on the forehead of the tight-wire walker and the tensing of the muscles. You get the benefit of unusual shots such as looking right straight up from beneath the tight wire, and seeing the feet grasping the wire.

Television is in the stage of a child learning to walk. But, like the horse, it is here to stay, and in a few years, will probably be one of the ten largest industries in the country. It has one big advantage over the movie theatre. You can turn it off.

Education Aid Bill Now Up To GOP'S

Washington, D. C., May 26—Action by the House of Representatives on the McCowan Bill, providing federal aid to education, now depends largely upon the Republican policy makers, and chiefly Reps. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Speaker of the House; Charles A. Halleck, the Republican Majority Leader, and Fred A. Hartley, Jr., chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor. The corresponding Senate bill was passed on April 1 by a vote of 59 to 22. The House bill also has strong bipartisan support.

Supporters of the legislation maintain that its enactment is essential to relieving the school crisis and strengthening the national defense. Under an objective formula the federal funds would be apportioned among the states to enable them to provide a reasonable basic opportunity for every public school child. The federal funds could be spent for current expenses, including salaries and equipment, but not for capital outlay. Every state would receive a minimum allotment for every school-age child, to be used in improving its poorest schools. Larger grants would be made to states of greatest relative need. In the terms of the bill, there are specific guarantees of continued state control and operation of the schools.

The federal aid program would be applied much like the minimum school programs which many states have adopted to equalize educational opportunity. The supplementary federal funds are required because of the inadequacies in state funds and sources of taxation. Even after the increase in state appropriations for public education, the schools are in more serious financial condition than they were in 1940. Costs of operation have risen twenty per cent more than the increase in appropriations since that time.

Control Internal Parasites Swine Breeders Told

Virginia swine breeders have been urged by agricultural extension service specialists to take steps for prevention of internal parasites in hogs. Animal Husbandman G. C. Herring said internal parasites, particularly roundworms, attack many hogs in the state every year, causing retarded growth and waste of feed. The chief method of prevention, he said, is sanitation. He advised keeping sows in clean surroundings before they farrow, and keeping pigs on clean land.

Where parasites have begun to make inroads because these practices were not followed, he recommends treatment with sodium fluoride when the pigs are nine or ten weeks old, or as soon as they are weaned and adjusted to feed. He emphasized that the sodium fluoride should be given in dry feed only and said a second treatment may be given at four months of age if necessary.

Mr. Herring said the U. S. Department of Agriculture has reported the sodium fluoride treatment is about 95 per cent efficient in treatment of parasites. He cautioned, however, that it is a poison and should not be used without first consulting a county agent about the proper mixture.

Other suggestions listed by Mr. Herring to make swine production more profitable included maximum use of pasture. About 10 per cent of the gain and as much as 50 per cent of the protein supplements can be saved by using pasture to the best advantage, he said.

The specialist also said to breed at least a normal number of sows for fall farrow; save all pigs possible from spring litter; every pig lost at farrowing represents a waste of 140 pounds of feed; market hogs at light weights—100 to 240 pounds; balance grain

First Production Rates Praise For Little Theater

By Dorothy Dolan
Very favorable comments have been heard from all who attended the presentation of "My Sister Eileen" by the Little Theater of Virginia Beach. It seems that all agree that it was a very fine production and gave the Little Theater a grand start on future productions.

Jane LaGiglia, who played Ruth was ranked as the outstanding performer in the cast. Shirley Dunn, as Eileen, performed with a little less confidence, but was reasonably believable and will acquire more poise with experience. In any event, she was an attractive addition to the cast. The best performance given by the supporting cast was played by Joe LaGiglia as Mr. Appoculus.

The stage settings were very good, especially the effect of the basement room with a grill looking out on the sidewalk.

The players all were commended on their performances and it should be remembered that all practice was done under difficulty due to not knowing when or where rehearsal could be scheduled.

Another point of interest is that the players had to go through an open window by way of a ladder to reach the stage as there was no entrance from the outside.

The Navy's air arm reached maturity on its thirty-first birthday—May 8, 1942—when it played its first important role in modern warfare in checking the advance of the Japanese at the two-day crucial battle of the Coral Sea.

Students Invited To Exposition

The 535,000 students enrolled in public schools of Virginia will be given free admission to the grounds of the Atlantic Rural Exposition when the gates to the big new state fairgrounds open on October 4 for a week of elaborate educational exhibits and demonstrations. Robert M. Hazelwood, general manager, announces.

Invitations to all school children will be issued jointly by Governor Wm. M. Tucker on behalf of the state and by Mayor Horace H. Edwards and Frank M. Galleher, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, on behalf of the city of Richmond.

"The management of the Atlantic Rural Exposition is rendering a real service to the youth of Virginia in extending them free admission to the grounds where the many educational exhibits and demonstrations will be held. The Virginia Education Association is pleased to assist in every way possible. Robert F. Williams, executive secretary of the group, said.

There is increased activity on the 460 acres that make up the vast exposition grounds, located on the northeast city limits of Richmond. The big half-mile track, one of the best in the east, has been flooded with 200,000 watts of light and has been enclosed in a solid 8-foot fence to make possible night auto racing under the direction of Criss Speedways and to provide facilities for other events not heretofore scheduled. The miles of roadway are being improved and the many concession buildings changed to accommodate larger crowds. The top card of midweek racing drivers have voiced their praise for the fast half-mile track and records may fall at the events that are scheduled for every Wednesday night.

The exposition will provide 26,000 feet of commercial exhibit space; 10,000 feet for the women's department; 12,800 feet for the Dahlia show; 12,600 for the agriculture exhibit; 14,400 for the swine department. There is space for 1,500 head of cattle and 4,000 poultry. For outside commercial exhibits, 10 acres have been set aside.

George A. Haguid's Follies of 1948 will provide the many acts for the grandstand. There will also be thrill shows and a mammoth display of fireworks. Celtn & Wilson shows will occupy the mile-long midway.

The U. S. Navy donated 557 small craft of various types to the American Sea Scouts during 1946 and 1947.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy John Nicholas Brown has described Naval Aviation as "the heart of the Navy, and upon the Air Arm rests the burden of maintaining the seapower we now have. The Navy, as a combat organization, is as strong as its aviation."

The U. S. Navy has developed a new steel cutting torch using electricity and an oxygen jet to operate. The new torch avoids the dangers inherent in using the highly explosive acetylene torch.

Care May Avert Summer Mishaps

Vacation emergencies which in the past have claimed tens of thousands of lives may be lessened considerably by careful forethought in preparing them.

Important things to bear in mind in case of an accident, according to an article in the June issue of Good Housekeeping magazine are: call a doctor immediately; keep calm; speak quietly; do not frighten the injured person; if you do, not know the correct procedure, do nothing. Keep the injured person lying flat, and do not move him unless he is in immediate danger from fire, etc. Use common sense.

A first aid kit for emergency use on vacations is advisable. The American Red Cross advises a first aid kit that contains an assortment of materials in standard packages of unit size, with enough applications and dressing for at least one injury. Refills are obtainable.

"Always buy the best," the article advises. "A kit should be compact, convenient, easily transportable. Well-known manufacturers make various types and sizes suitable for travel and home use."

So many vacation accidents have happened in water, the article contains eight simple rules in this connection. They are:

Children who can't swim should wear life preservers when on a dock or in a boat. Persons who don't swim well should stay out of canoes. Children should not go swimming unless a responsible person is nearby. For even moderate distance swims the swimmer should come out of the water immediately if they are cold, blue or feel sick. No one should swim during a thunderstorm. Don't dive in strange waters. Know the depth and the condition of the bottom.

Children with sinus, nose, throat and ear complications shouldn't dive. Ask a physician's advice about each child. Wait two hours after a full meal before swimming.

Springtime Curls For Little Girls

A lovely change from everyday braids or curls to this cute hairstyle for the small fry. Of course, hair that is kept shining with regular washings in liquid conditioning shampoo, and polished with daily brushings is bound to be pretty. But little girls like an occasional change of hairstyle too, to call attention to their natural hair beauty.

The style shown here in the photo is easy to copy and looks lovely with or without bangs. Just part the hair from front to back and brush each side smoothly to a spot just behind each ear. Bind these pigtail with rubber bands, then brush the hair-ends smooth and silky. Sewed the rubber band with pretty dime store pebbles or a ribbon bow to match your dress. What could be prettier?

Someone neglected to mention to the crows that the U. S. Navy is an up-to-the-minute outfit. Two of the black birds recently attempted to nest on the radar platform of the cruiser USS Atlanta, apparently not understanding that Navy ships no longer have the old-time "crow's nest" at the mast-head.

In order to give full recognition to the two inventors of the airplane, U. S. Navy records recently were changed to honor the memory of both Wilbur and Orville Wright in the name of the carrier USS Wright.

U. S. Navy scientists expect soon to be able to produce temperatures within .001 degrees of absolute zero (-459.7 degrees Fahrenheit).

State of Virginia Under-Represented in Draft, NEA Says

"Inequality of educational opportunity in the United States resulted in an unequal distribution among the states of the manpower burdens of the last war," a report of a study of Selective Service experience by the Research Division of the National Education Association has revealed. "This resulted in payment by the wealthier states for the educational deficiencies of the low-income states, through the increased quotas of the young men in the former states who qualified for service."

According to the National Education Association, during World War II, twelve states furnished to the armed services, through both inductions and enlistments, a significantly larger proportion of servicemen than did the rest of the country. The states "over-represented" in the armed forces were Massachusetts, Oregon, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Nevada, New York, New Jersey, Washington, Pennsylvania, Utah, California, and Maine. Twelve other states significantly "under-represented" in the armed forces were South Carolina, Georgia, North Carolina, North Dakota, Alabama, South Dakota, Mississippi, Arkansas, Virginia, Louisiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

South Carolina sent the lowest percent of its selective service registrants into the armed services and had the highest proportion of rejections for educational deficiency. Washington and Oregon ranked high in its percentage of registrants accepted by the services, and had the lowest proportion of rejections for educational deficiency. The study shows that "in general, the states with high educational expenditures and low proportions of rejections for educational deficiency are more likely to furnish a larger share of their selective service registrants in the service." It adds, however, that the unequal distribution of the burdens of the war cannot be attributed to any indifference on the part of the under-represented states to their educational problems. "The lower per capita wealth in the southeastern and southwestern states, coupled with their larger proportion of children, has made it impossible for these states to raise their educational expenditures to the national level without outside assistance."

The NEA study shows also that the high proportion of rejections for educational deficiency resulted also in increased induction of fathers. The number of fathers inducted in the entire nation was 1,150,522. "The generally higher percentages of fathers inducted in the southern states appears to have been determined chiefly by the high proportions of rejections for educational deficiency, for the drain of rejections on manpower in these states left fewer selective service registrants available. If the 659,392 men who were rejected in the nation for educational deficiency had been prepared by adequate schooling, one-half of the father inductees would not have had to go."

Calling pending federal aid to education legislation a vital phase of national defense, the NEA says that "the equalization of basic educational opportunity would prepare the youth of every state for effective service to the nation in meeting any future contingency faced by the nation in time of war or peace." The Senate recently passed a federal aid bill by the overwhelming vote of 58 to 22. The corresponding bill must be reported by the Committee on Education and Labor in order for the House to complete the enactment of federal aid in the Eighty-fourth Congress.

WARREN T. WHITE, authority on Southern economic progress and public relations director of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, has been named vice president representing the state of Virginia of the Southern Association of Science and Industry.

Virginia's Future Bright, Says White

Warren T. White, of Norfolk, director of public relations of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad and recently-elected vice president for the state of Virginia of the Southern Association of Science and Industry, stated today that in Virginia as well as in other parts of the South scientific research applied to development of the region's natural resources assures "a bright new decade of progress."

Named a vice president and trustee at the S. A. S. I.'s May convention in Miami, Fla., White stated: "As vice president representing the state of Virginia for this progressive organization I am deeply cognizant of the responsibilities for a sound approach to the further development of industry in the South. Much of our industry is based on agriculture, and our wealth of natural resources combined with the intelligence and capability of labor and management in the South cannot fail to assure a bright new decade of progress. In Virginia, as well as in the other southern states, scientific research which has been applied to modern industrial techniques assures increased and diversified industrial and agricultural production in the South. The South's economic pulse is beating with a strong regularity that guarantees a healthy prosperity for the future."

An authority on southern economic endeavor, White has been particularly active in the conservation of southern forests and in the development of the paper and pulp industry in the Southeast. Before becoming director of Seaboard's public relations department he was head of the railroad's industrial department and in that position was instrumental in influencing the location, establishment and expansion of manufacturing enterprises in the Southern states.

White is also a member of the S. A. S. I. forestry committee which is headed by Dr. Clarence F. Kestian, of the Duke University school of forestry. "Forestry in the South" is the title of the first of 12 monographs to be issued by the Association in its intention to "place the South under the microscopes of both natural and social scientists in an effort to discover potentialities and point the way for wise resource development." The initial monograph explores the region's forest resources in terms of volumes and types.

Film To Be Shown To Methodists

The sound motion picture, "Beyond Our Own," will be shown at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church Sunday night at eight o'clock. This film was produced by the Protestant Film Commission, according to the announcement made by the pastor, Rev. Robert E. Forrest. The picture has a message of vital importance to the religious life of today, he said.

Both the sound and photography have been rated excellent by religious critics, the minister stated, and the film has an outstanding drain and growth, and also analyzes the industrial uses and the status of present management. The monographs are part of a series of studies of southern resources, undertaken at the S. A. S. I.'s request by the Institute for Research in Social Science at the University of North Carolina.

Members of other churches of Virginia Beach and the public are invited to see the picture, he said. Mr. Forrest will preach the commencement sermon at the Ocean High School Sunday night, June 6, and there will be no services in the church that night, he said.

Methodist Church Arranges Remarriage Dedication Service

A "Day to Get Married Again" service has been arranged for June 13 at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, beginning at 8 p.m.

Arranged by the pastor, the Rev. Robert E. Forrest, the service will feature special wedding music, solo, and a wedding march. There will be a message on marriage as a Christian institution by Mr. Forrest, after which those couples present will be asked to stand and take the marriage vows over again.

In announcing the service, Mr. Forrest said that it has been arranged in an unique attempt "to strengthen the home life of our people and to call attention to the permanency of many marriages in a day when so much attention is sometimes given to divorce among people prominent in Amirecan life."

It's Leap Year, Girls!

First girl in our town to "get her man" on Leap Year was the Cuppers' daughter, Jane, who wed Bill Webster's boy last Saturday.

When I asked Bill Jr. if it was true that Jane really did the proposing, Bill said: No, but she made it plain she'd make an ideal wife. Instead of looking for diversion or excitement over evening, she was content to chat beside the fire.

"I could plainly see," says Bill, "that we'd really have a happy home life—which is just exactly what I want from marriage."

I know it's usual for older folks to shake their heads over the younger generation. (It's gone on for hundreds of years, now.)

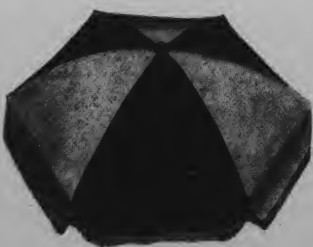

But from where I sit, young people of marrying age today are every bit as commendable as their elders were—in their temperance (a glass of beer for instance), tolerance, and common sense. So to Jane and Bill—the best of luck!

Packers Advised of Wage-Hour Law and Child-Labor Acts

Operators of fresh fruit and vegetable packing sheds in Virginia today were reminded that the Fair Labor Standards Act—the Federal Wage and Hour Law—limits the school vacation period employment of 14- and 15-year-old boys and girls in this industry to eight hours a day, between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., with a weekly total of 40 hours. During school periods, the working time of such boys and girls, outside of school hours, is limited to three hours a day, or 18 hours a week.

Importance of these provisions, to packers who ship their produce in interstate commerce was stressed by Fred J. Cox, Jr., 205 West

Grace Street, Richmond, Inspector, Supervisor of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U. S. Department of Labor.

Mr. Cox pointed out that the basic minimum age for employment under the Wage and Hour Law is 16 years, and cautioned all packers that no boy or girl under that age may be employed in a manufacturing process, such as box-making. Furthermore, he said, the minimum age for employment is 18 years in occupations declared to be hazardous for minors.

With respect to employment of 14- and 15-year-old boys and girls, the official explained that a wartime emergency amendment had permitted such minors to work until 10 p.m. in the packing industry, but that the extension was revoked October 31, 1945, and the original 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. period for up to eight hours of work was re-established for school vacation periods.

It is possible for employers to protect themselves against unintentional violations of the Federal law, Mr. Cox said, by obtaining age certificates to show that boys and girls under 18 are old enough for the job they hold. Certificates are obtainable in Virginia from local school officials and county superintendents of schools, and are accepted as proof of age under the Federal law.

How to Stretch an Egg

By MOLLIE MARTIN

One egg can often go a long way and Apricot Surprise Coffee Cake is a good example of it. And what a pleasant surprise it is both in the making and in the eating thereof. It's based on the magic which goes with the Ever-Ready Blend. You know, that's the blend of flour, double acting baking powder, salt and shortening which you make up in fairly large quantities and store in the refrigerator — ready for quick biscuits, waffles and other good things.

Then comes the time when you want an Apricot Surprise Coffee Cake, so all you do is stretch two cups of Ever-Ready Blend with an egg and a little sugar to make a grand coffee cake dough. With the addition of either your favorite fruit filling or the combination listed here, it's a coffee cake that will have your devoted family clamoring for more, and more, and more. So he warned and plan for two coffee cakes if the eight servings of this one are not enough for your hungry horde. Here's the recipe:

Apricot Surprise Coffee Cake
1/2 cup drained cooked dried apricots
1/2 cup drained canned crushed pineapple
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons orange juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup shredded coconut
2 cups Ever-Ready Blend
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup milk

Combine apricots, pineapple, and 1/2 cup sugar in saucepan. Cook and stir over low heat 3 minutes, or until fruit is clear. Cool. Add orange juice, grated rind, and coconut.

Measure Ever-Ready Blend into bowl. Add 1/2 cup sugar. Combine egg and milk and add to mixture, stirring until a soft dough is formed.

Spread 3/4 of batter in greased 9-inch pie pan. Alternate tablespoonfuls of apricot mixture and remaining 1/4 batter on top. Run spatula in a spiral through batter to give a marbled effect. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Makes 8 servings.

Ever-Ready Blend
6 cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons calcium baking powder
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup (1/2 pound) shortening
Sift flour once. Measure 3 cups into sifter, add 1 tablespoon (3 teaspoons) baking powder, and 1 1/2 teaspoons salt; sift into large bowl. Repeat. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until finely divided and mixture resembles coarse meal. Makes about 7 cups Ever-Ready Blend.

Place in glass jars or crockery bowl and cover lightly with cloth or plate to allow circulation of air. Store in refrigerator or other very cool, dry place. Keeps well for 3 or 4 weeks.

To Make Biscuits. For 10 to 12 biscuits, measure 3 cups Ever-Ready Blend into bowl. Add about 1/2 cup milk and stir until a soft dough is formed. (Use more or less milk depending upon particular flour used.)

Turn out dough on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Pat or roll 1/2-inch thick and cut with floured 2-inch biscuit cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450° F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

Memorial Day Week-End, Traditional Beach Opening Event, Draws Near Capacity Holiday Crowds

Hotels Report Bookings Well Above Average; Amusements Open and in Full Swing

Virginia Beach's "official" opening day arrived this morning, with most of the major and some of the smaller hotels and cottages reporting "sell-outs" and others optimistic in their predictions for the week-end and the season.

The Cavalier Hotel reported that they are booked solid and are having to refuse new entries. Reservations already are booked heavily throughout the season, according to Publicity Director Bill Lashley.

Henry Barclay, manager of the Gay Manor Hotel, says that reservations for the week-end and for a month or more have been booked solid. He reports that 65 to 70 per cent of his patronage comes back regularly each year and that his reservation list for the summer already is nearing capacity for the entire season. "We are going to have a very good season," he said.

Down toward the south end of the beach, the Martha Washington's manager said that business during the past April has more than doubled last year's business and that this will be repeated in May. All rooms are taken for the week-end, he said, and reservations for June, July and August are piling up.

Charles P. Gay, of the Pinewood Hotel, said he believes this will be one of the best seasons the beach has ever had. "It has been a little cool and the season started a little later than usual on that account," he said, "but we are expecting a large week-end crowd and reservations are coming in fast."

Al Malhes, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that all hotels report very good business, with bookings well ahead for the remaining summer months.

"There still are rooms available, however," Mr. Malhes said, "and there is always space. The outlook is very good, and all we need for a good season is good weather."

Beach clubs, amusement parks, playgrounds and sports clubs all are open in full swing for the week-end and the summer.

Sailing Regatta Set For June 20 On Linkhorn Bay

The Cavalier Yacht and Country Club will sponsor its first sailing regatta of the summer season on Linkhorn Bay Sunday, June 20. The meet is open to the swift Hampton class craft.

The morning race will get underway at 10 a.m. and skippers will sail once around Course A, a distance of three miles. At 2 in the afternoon the warning gun will sound and the sailors are scheduled to travel twice around course B, covering five miles.

The race committee of Garland Miller, James Wolcott, Herbert Terry and Herbert White are anxious to have as many skippers as possible compete.

Spectators will be able to view the race from the lawn of the club.

Charles H. Goren To Attend Regional Bridge Event Here

Championship play of the first Mid-Atlantic Regional Bridge Tournament will begin tonight at eight o'clock at the Dunes Club. Charles H. Goren, one of the world's ranking bridge authorities, will attend.

On Tuesday Mr. Goren will travel to Old Point Comfort to lecture at the Chamberlin Hotel.

Tournament play is scheduled to open with the mixed pair event to be run in sections.

Norfolk area players took part in the monthly master point game at the Monticello Hotel May 25.

TOMMY DORSEY IS FIRST OF NAME BANDS TO STOP AT SURF CLUB

"Sentimental Gentleman of Swing" Booked For Engagement of One Week

The parade of the nation's best dance orchestras through Virginia Beach is underway. Tommy Dorsey and his band, considered as one of the top swing bands in the country, will be on the stand tonight at the Surf Club. They will be here for one week.

Featured vocalists with Dorsey's band are Denny Dennis and Lucy Ann Palk.

The annual Memorial Day dance will mark the formal opening of the Surf Club.

Dorsey, the sentimental gentleman of swing, is scheduled to entertain every night through next Thursday from nine until two in the morning, EST (ten to three DST). The Sunday afternoon tea dances have been discontinued.

According to authorities of the club, the new opening time of nine o'clock is for the benefit of Norfolk residents.

The "open-air" club has been reconditioned for the season. One of the major improvements is the installation of a snack bar for bathers. The club has also been repainted.

Club officials are optimistic and are hoping that the winter work of improvements in its establishment and its selection of name bands will offer a complete and variety of entertainment for the season.

Dorsey will go west after his engagement here to make a movie for MGM.

Holiday Marks Formal Opening For Beach Club

Waples Band Now Appearing; Fashion Display On Sunday

Memorial Day week-end, the first holiday of the three-month "sun-tan span," marks the annual formal opening of the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club.

The same orchestra which opened the past season, Buddy Waples, is returning to the club. Waples brings his band to the Cavalier's outdoor dance deck tonight following Royce Stoenner and his orchestra, who completed the first two weeks of the season last night.

The versatile Waples not only directs and plays the piano, but also arranges the music and handles a vocalizing assignment. He shares the singing with Charco Moyee, songstress from Missouri. His band specializes in sweet music featuring violin background. Several critics have hailed his orchestra as outstanding among the up-and-coming young bands.

A fashion show is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at the club as an added attraction to the nightly dancing and daily tea dancing. A nationally known organization will display beach and cabana clothes, cocktail and sportswear, and dinner clothes and formal on the sun deck. The show will be staged during the tea dance.

Four Winners From Local Golf Meet To Go To State Event

By J. J. Lee

"Pardon me but did I understand you to say you were interested in golf tournaments? Brother, you couldn't have come to a better place."

According to current information, golf events are holding the spotlight on Virginia Beach's sports program.

Four entries for the State Amateur golf tournament at Petersburg, sponsored by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be picked from boys under 19 years old at a meet beginning at the Cavalier Country Club June 16. The local Jaycees are promoting the event in the hope that it will be the first such affair ever held at the Beach.

The boys will play 36 holes of medal play. One round will be run in the morning and one in the afternoon.

Amateurs from local high school and prep school groups are expected to enter.

Qualifying rounds for the annual championship tournament of the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club will be held from May 31 to June 7. The Norfolk Auto Dealers Association is scheduled to play on the Cavalier course June 1. The Electrical League will begin play on June 8.

Tournaments the past week included the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch Ladies Championship, the Norfolk Sports Club, and the Virginia Association of Life Insurance Agents, who are now holding a convention at the Cavalier Hotel. The Princess Anne Country Club held its men's and women's club championship events also.

"Why, brother, golf tournaments are not only holding the spotlight at the Beach, but before long they will be under them."

The first two aircraft ever ordered by the U. S. Navy were Curtiss "Triads." The planes, one a landplane and one a hydro-plane, were ordered by the Navy on May 8, 1911.

Student Groups to Tour Williamsburg And See "Common Glory" During Summer; W. & M. College Cooperates

Virginia's 132,000 students in junior and senior high schools in 100 counties and 25 cities will this summer not only have the opportunity of seeing where history was made but also how it was made.

In a directive which has just been mailed to all division superintendents, O. Tyler Miller, superintendent of public instruction, announced that arrangements are now in progress between the Jamestown Corporation (sponsor, with the Virginia Conservation Commission of "The Common Glory," colorful saga of a Nation's birth), Colonial Williamsburg and the College of William and Mary, for student groups to attend "The Common Glory," tour the restored buildings of Colonial Williamsburg and have overnight housing and meals at the college dormitories, when overnight facilities are necessary.

Goad Pitches Lions Into Softball Lead

The Lions Club has won four straight games without a defeat to take the lead in the first round of the Virginia Beach Softball League. Mel Goad, the "Iron man" for the Lions, has hurled all four games.

Although edged by the American Legion team 5-4 recently, Virginia Beach Motors is clinging to second place in the eight team league with a record of three wins and two losses.

According to E. B. (Bubba) Bayne, president of the softball association and manager of the Fire Department nine, a larger public address system has been loaned to the Beach playground for use during the ball games.

Mr. Bayne hopes to have an electric scoreboard installed in center field by the end of July. The board will be about 20 feet long and 35 feet high. To remind residents that Virginia Beach is still on Standard Time, a ten-foot clock will be attached to the board.

Four games scheduled for Wednesday night were rained out.

Standings through May 26:

Lions Club	4 0
Va. Beach Motors	3 2
Fire Department	2 2
American Legion	2 2
Rotary Club	2 3

Seaside Park Is Playground For All

Believe it or not, almost 24 orchestras will be heard every night at the Seaside Park's new teenage ball room. And who knows, some of the bands might stay on for weeks—depending on who is changing the records in the juke box.

In addition to the teen-age ball room, according to Doc Britton, manager of the park, six new rides have been set up for this summer. The Snap-O-Rip and the Moon Rocket are two.

Back to pre-war prices could be the park's new slogan—or almost, anyway. Prices have been cut on many of the amusements almost 25 per cent.

The park was reconditioned during the winter for the opening of the summer season.

The new British taxes are staggering. They include a special tax on investment income on top of the regular income tax. It works out so that when a person's income from investments passes $30,000, his income taxes are more than his income.

Even the poor man finds himself burdened with countless taxes. A lot of people are trying to give up smoking because taxes run the price of cigarettes up to 70 cents a pack.

The Navy has developed a seaplane dock which can be carried to advanced bases by the planes that are to use it.

Mr. Miller called their attention to the opening of "The Common Glory" on July 3 as "highly educational in its dramatization of the early days of our Nation's history and especially the part the Virginia Colony played in the establishment of democratic government in the new world."

With this directive was enclosed a folder for every high school student, prepared by the Jamestown Corporation and Colonial Williamsburg, setting forth what there was to see on Virginia's historic Peninsula and giving details of costs of tickets, overnight accommodations and the like, all of which have been worked out to a minimum. A coupon on the back of the folder is to be signed by each parent and returned to the teacher. This will then be sent to the division superintendent who will notify the Jamestown Corporation as to the exact number of students attending from each school. It is necessary that students and parents act promptly as bookings are already being made for the drama and special nights must be set aside well in advance for school attendance.

Colonial Williamsburg has made a special rate for ten or more students with an accompanying adult. Each of these groups will be provided an escort at no additional cost when arrangements are made in advance.

School groups taking part in the historical tour and attending a performance of "The Common Glory" will be scheduled from July 8 through August 29. No student groups will be scheduled on week-ends.

Last year the drama was witnessed by more than 90,000 persons and many were turned away. Of this number approximately 5,000 were students attending in groups.

Added Attractions Featured at Ocean Club This Season

Beginning its second year of entertainment, the Ocean Club, on 16th Street, will offer added attractions during the season to go along with the national orchestras.

"The club, one of the few indoor, modernistic night clubs at the Beach, will introduce Leo Pieper and his band to the public tonight as the opening event of the season.

Pieper leads and plays the piano for his 11-piece orchestra. He is from Nebraska and has played throughout the mid-west since his release from the service.

The band has several vocalists with individual deliveries: Patti Regan sings the romantic ballads, Chuck Bindig adds variety with his interpretations of comedy tunes, and Pieper takes the mike for the old standards in a novelty vein.

More than 90 regular Navy and Naval Reserve officers have been assigned as Navy Liaison officers for Scouting, assisting and instructing American Sea Scouts in nautical subjects.

Journeyman's Wage Factor in Getting Larger Allowance

The journeyman's wage will be a key factor in determining whether veterans training on the job under the G. I. Bill will receive an increase in subsistence allowance as a result of the recently-enacted law raising income ceilings.

According to Henry G. Moore, acting manager of the Veterans Administration's Roanoke Regional Office, the journeyman's wage will be the determining factor if it is below the new ceiling. If the journeyman's wage equals or exceeds the new ceiling, then the ceiling will be the deciding factor.

The principal effect of the new law was to raise the ceilings on the total monthly income a veteran could have before losing the right to draw full subsistence allowances from VA. For an ex-serviceman without dependents, the ceiling was upped from $175 to $210; for a veteran with one dependent, from $200 to $270; for one with two or more dependents, from $200 to $290.

Maximum monthly subsistence allowances for veterans training on the job under the G. I. Bill remain as they were. They are $65 a month for an ex-serviceman without dependents or $90 for one with any number of dependents.

If a veteran's income from other sources combined with his allowance exceeds the ceiling figure, his subsistence is restricted proportionately. For instance, an ex-serviceman with no dependents who is earning $200 a month would be allowed to draw his full $90 allowance if the journeyman's wage on his job equalled or exceeded the new ceiling of $290 a month. But suppose the veteran is earning $230 a month. He could draw only $60 a month allowance because this amount, plus his earnings, would bring him up to the ceiling. Here the ceiling is the determining factor.

But assume the journeyman's wage on his job is $250 a month. In that case, the veteran could draw only a $20 allowance since this is all that would be necessary to bring him up to the journeyman level. In this case, the journeyman's wage is the determining factor.

The journeyman's wage is fixed for the trainee by the Virginia State Board of Education which is responsible for approving training institutions in the state of Virginia. The wage set is that normally earned by a worker fully trained in that field. In other words, it is the goal toward which the trainee is aiming. VA is required to abide by this figure.

Army Planning New Program for Reserves

A new program to insure the optimum utilization to Reserve officers who are professionally engaged in research and development was announced today by Colonel A. S. Knight, Senior State Instructor, Organized Reserves.

Reserve officers who are technically qualified will be organized into Organized Reserve Research and Development Groups of not less than 20 men, or into subgroups of not less than ten men except in special cases.

To be qualified for the program, a Reserve officer must possess at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited college, and be engaged in research and development work in one of the following fields: physis, engineering, medicine, physics, or psychology.

Members of the groups will receive inactive duty training, and may volunteer for active duty training at schools or with Army boards.

Those interested in joining Reserve Research and Development Groups may obtain further information from Headquarters Organized Reserves, First and Broad Streets, Richmond, Virginia.

No silk pillow for this baby's picture!

This is the Norfolk and Western's new Y6b—and 16 more just like it, plus five others of another type, christened Class A's, are on the way.

These big "babies" are "born" in the railroad's Roanoke, Va., shops. They are a part of the Norfolk and Western's $50,000,000 "all over the line" improvement program for today and tomorrow. These powerful, heavy-duty freight locomotives are built for a big and important job. They help guarantee continued better rail service for shippers . . . and they represent another stride toward more efficient exchange of goods and better business in the towns and cities served by the Norfolk and Western.

A rail shipment originating anywhere in the United States may travel over many different lines before it is delivered. American railroads work together. For this reason, the Norfolk and Western's new Y6b's, Class A's, and all other phases of its $50,000,000 improvement program, are substantial steps toward better overall American rail service.

Byrd Calls for Reduced Budget; Asks Limitation of "Pork Barrell" Bill

Senator Harry Flood Byrd, voicing a strong plea for economy in government, has asked for re-commitment of the War-Civil Appropriation Bill for the purpose of reducing items for civilian public works projects by $300,000,000.

Emphasizing that the $737,884,300 required by the War-Civil Appropriations Bill is the largest appropriation for such purposes in our history, the Virginia statesman told the Senate last week that "The time has come for members of Congress to recognize that we must vote to preserve the solvency of the United States Government and that Senators and Congressmen should not be influenced to vote for what the chairman of the Appropriations Committee terms a 'pork barrell' measure merely because there may be projects for their respective states."

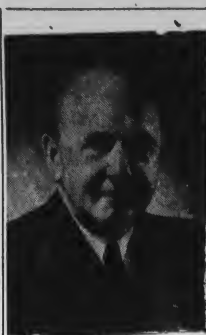

"It is well at this time to point out the fact that efforts for economy since the conclusion of World War II have been most meagre in actual results," Senator Byrd said. "Prior to World War II our government was operated on an annual budget of from $8 billion to $9 billion. After the end of hostilities the President submitted to Congress a peacetime budget of $37.5 billion, with the statement that not one dollar of this budget could be reduced without affecting adversely the public interest."

"It now appears certain that we are rapidly approaching . . . an annual Federal budget of not less than $50 billion and perhaps more. In other words, we will soon spend in one peacetime budget more than the total cost of World War I," he said.

Condemning both Democratic and Republican members for their failure to make substantial reductions in Federal expenditures, the Virginia Senator cited the case of the "overwhelming bureaucracy that has been built up here in Washington" and spoke of the reduction of Federal employees as "one of the most outstanding opportunities for retrenchment."

"The year before the war we had less than one million employees," he said. "Now we have two million, and the Federal employees are increasing now at the rate of 500 per day. In fact, it is anticipated that an even larger daily increase will occur from now on . . ."

"It is true that from the peak of the war there has been a reduction of employees, but an investigation will disclose that the reduction has occurred mainly in those employees engaged in industrial work incident to the war, and that the clerical employees attached to the regular departments of government, in many instances have been increased since the beginning of World War II. The cost of the Federal payroll is now at the rate of about six billion dollars, and it so happens that this sum is nearly twice the total cost of the Federal Government when I came to the Senate March 4, 1933."

"I want to warn the Senate that we are rapidly approaching a real crisis in our Federal expenditures. We have undertaken obligations that could destroy our free enterprise system. I, for one, do not believe that this great representative democracy can preserve its private enterprise system, which is the foundation stone, and spend $50 billion a year for Federal expenditures and $13 billion, or more, for local and state expenditures, making a total of approximately $65 billion for government, or more than 30 per cent of the present combined personal incomes of all Americans."

"The most sacred responsibility of every representative of the people is to keep America sound and solid. Neither our own people nor those who seek our aid should ever forget that the might of America lies in our strength here at home—our fiscal solvency, our productive capacity under the free enterprise system and our ability to finance our obligations without crushing taxation. Our financial stability is far more urgent for our own security and for freedom in the world than any program of public works at home or international subsidies abroad that would severely strain our economy."

"Financial instability in the United States would serve the enemies of democracy far more than any weapon that could be devised. By the same token, our financial soundness is the only hope of those who seek our help. Without it there would be no bulwark against Communism and freedom could not survive here or

Highway Dept. Has Advice for Motorists

Richmond, May 24—The State Highway Department had a bit of sound advice this week for those who want greater improvement for the roads of Princess Anne County.

Think twice, suggested the Department, before you toss bottles, tin cans, paper boxes, and other rubbish along the roadides.

And think several times, advised the Department, before you permit your children to deface the signs, reflectors, guard rails and the like which are placed to direct and aid traffic.

The Department spend staggering sums to clean up the roads and to replace mutilated signs and traffic markings.

elsewhere. If the fiscal stability of America weakens, the whole civilized world will follow."

Predicting total Federal expenditures of $49,300,000,000 in 1951, the Senator spoke of the budget for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1948, amounting to $37,950,000,000, and cited the increase in President's budget request for 1949, saying that expenditures may reach $43,500,000,000.

On the income side, he said, we cannot expect, under present taxation, a greater income than from $40 billion to $42 billion, "unless we go into a spiral of inflation which, in itself, would mean ultimate disaster."

The Senator said he voted against the European Recovery program because he did not believe we could maintain our private enterprise economy and establish a strong military defense, and, at the same time, give economic aid to sixteen European nations.

"As one Senator, I want to say that I will never vote to donate for economic recovery in Russia and the Eastern European nations controlled by Russia. . . . Once we recognize that we cannot bribe nations to change their form of government; that we cannot purchase friendship with bounty, and that the safety of this country depends upon a strong national defense, the sooner we will be able to work out the difficulties that now confront us," he said.

This money comes from your own county road funds. Every cent needed to clean up or to repair means just that much less for much-needed road improvements.

If the state did not have to pay for your carelessness, there would be more money to build better roads and more money to maintain existing roads at higher standards.

You are spending your own money when you don't cooperate.

For those who just don't care, the Department has these words—littering the highways with rubbish or destroying State property is against the law. Offenders may be fined heavily.

Fifty-three U. S. Navy bands are at present stationed on ships and at shore stations over the world.
